Who are you? A student or, more specifically, a first grade student who was E.T. in the Halloween Parade. Or a Senior who worships Roger Daltrey. You are a sixth grader who sings "Eminence Front," not knowing what "Eminence" really means. A sophomore who plays lacrosse. A junior who sang in the Brunch. A member of Interact. A thespian. A skier. A Football player. A Flower Girl. A "teacher's pet . . ." You are not identical students who look alike, play alike. Who you are is what you do at school, out of school, and in the summer. This is a tribute to each individual who laughs, studies, plays a sport, befriends another person, dances, and knows everyone is different. Who are you? You know.

Mrs. Mertens

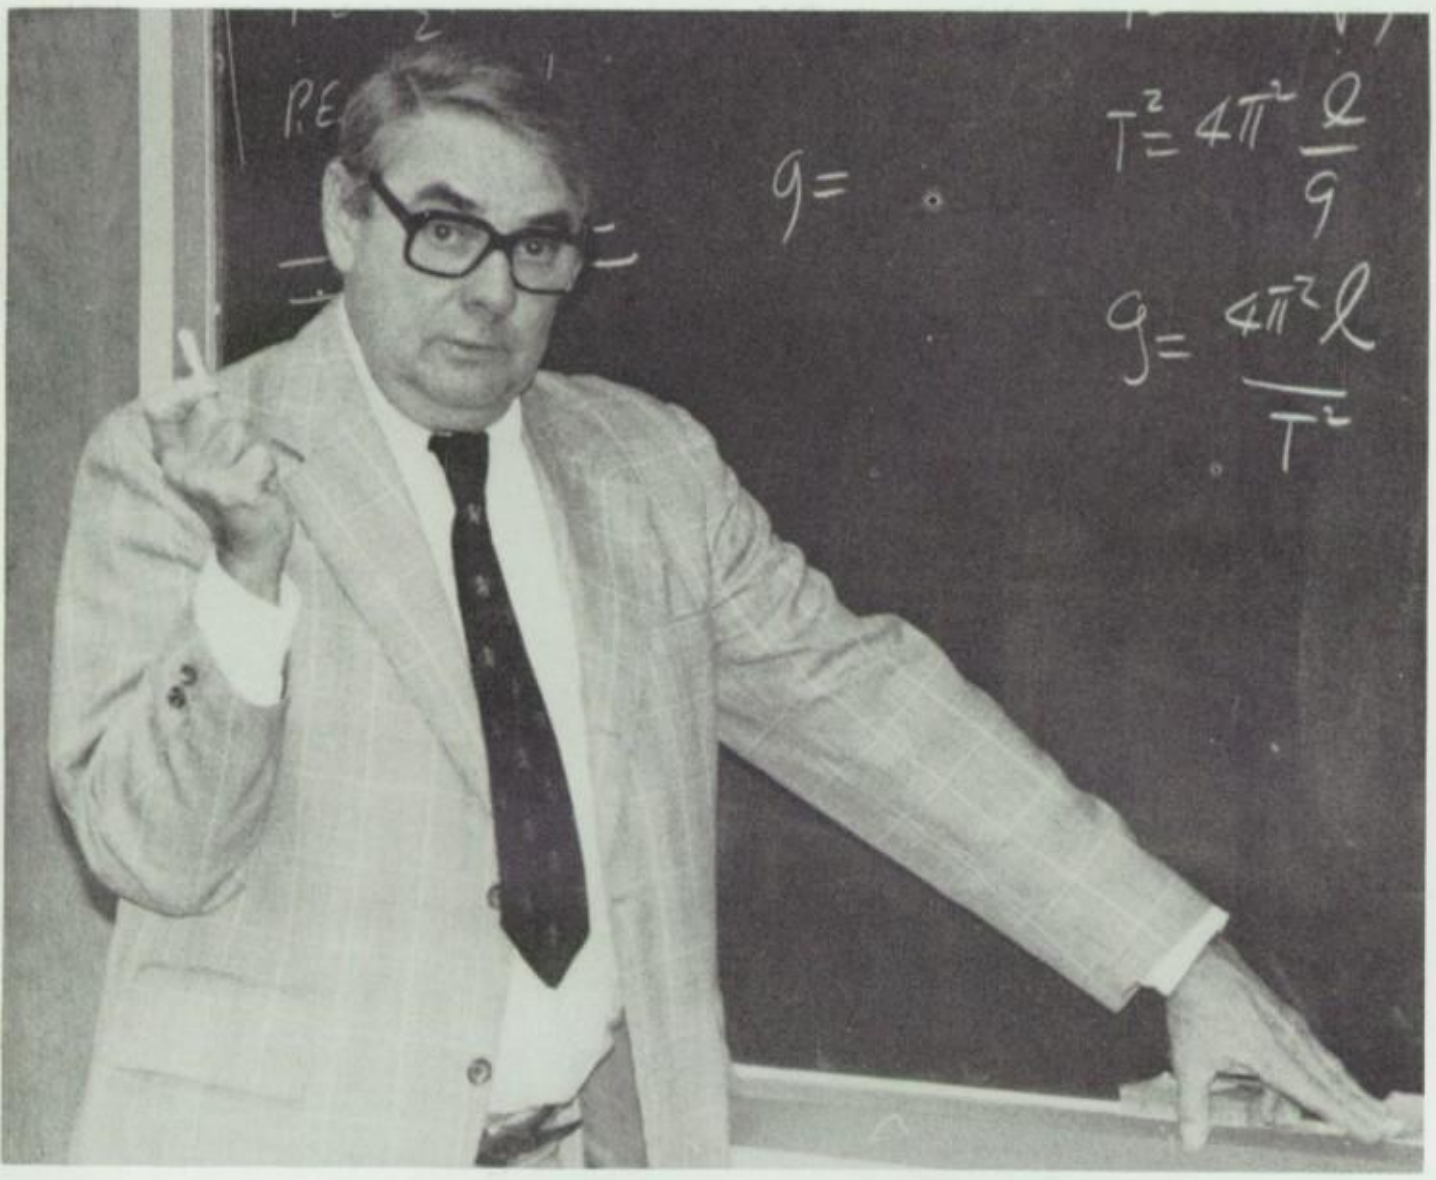
As the eminence of college applications became a reality in our junior year, we were met by a new face. Our questioning of her devotion was soon quelled, as she guided us through the application and testing procedures.

As we set our goals for our futures, she helped us to be realistic. Caring for each of us as individuals, she was able to lesson our disappointments and encourage us to continue striving. She always kept our personal strengths and weaknesses in mind when advising us to apply to schools.

Her consideration for and interest in each of us enables her to talk with us on a more personal level. We can discuss college plans, English term papers for Dr. Hailes, and weekend plans and feel as though she truly cares. She always greets us in the hall with a smile while informing us of the latest college information. She has faith in us as students and helps us to try to achieve our best work.

For all the time she has taken with us individually and for showing how much she really cares, we, the Senior girls, dedicate The 1983 TORCH to Mrs. Margaret Mertens.

MR. WOOLFORD



Now that we are finally prepared to go into the "real world" it is time to pay tribute to one individual who has unselfishly given his all in the classroom. From the eighth grade, when he first taught us Physical Science, to the twelfth grade when he taught us Physics, he has been a dedicated friend and an influential teacher. Although we occasionally got off the track, this seventeen year veteran of The Collegiate Schools remained patient and humorous and usually responded, "I don't want to be a policeman — I want to teach you about the real world." And teach he did — from navigating a boat, to finding out the torque in a complex physics problem — he was always there with a picture, and explanation, or a humorous story.

We will never forget his weather reports, his stories about his boat in Deltaville, or his original lingo which included such famous expressions as "real world, policeman, babysitter, social hour." Although we are sad to leave, we know that his classes have prepared us to deal with life's problems. And because of his influential character we, the Senior Boys, would like to dedicate the 1983 Torch to Mr. William W. Woolford, III.

Who are you? You emphasize Academic goals. You lead the school in Academic achievements. You are champions in an intellectual sense. The faculty, who guides you in Academic pursuits, plays a chief role in your education. You personify scholarship and Academic integrity.

ACADEMICS

Administration

The Administration. It seems it hardly gets to rest. The big names in our administration are Mr. Malcolm Pitt, Mr. William Reeves, Mr. Cliff Miller, Mr. Bill O'Flaherty, and Mrs. Julia Williams.

Every Monday afternoon they have a meeting in which they discuss things such as school policy and now especially the new field house with its infinite problems. It is very safe to say the school would not run without every member of the administration.

Our Educators

The administration and teachers have led us through our years at Collegiate. They educate us and add variety to our lives. Their experiences and methods of teaching have molded our lives and views.

Failing or passing, laughing or crying, we have turned to our teachers for support and guidance. Asking encouragement, or maybe a simple smile, we have grown to depend on our faithful instructors. At Collegiate, we think of our faculty as more than just a group of teachers; they are friends.

Shaping our views and personalities is their job, and their only reward is to watch us grow from students into mature men and women.

Debate/Brains: Winners One And All

This year marked the second year in the existence of the Debate team. Coached by Mr. Weiser and led by co-captains Brian Corcoran and Alex Wright, the team entered several meets such as the Washington-Catholic Forensic League, Bicentenial Debate, Tidewater League, and the State Finals. The team was very successful, winning many awards, and several top placements.

For the third year in a row, the Battle of the Brains team has acquired a $1000.00 check from the Safeway Corporation. Consisting of team members John Rowe, Margaret Swezey, Andy Schneider and Brian Corcoran and exuberant coaches Jeanette Welsh and Charles Wiltshire, the team narrowly defeated Monocan in the championship game. With the pool of talent remaining, the future should bring more exciting victories.

Varsity Video/Model Judiciary

Varsity Video. David Cooke, Robert Urofsky, Peter Glagola, Meade Daffron, and Mrs. Remick.

Did Jim Diamond murder his girlfriend? This was the case that was heard in the Model Judiciary. The Model Judiciary is a program sponsored by the Richmond area attornies that allows students to partake in a mock trial. The purpose is to allow students to become more aware of and involved in the legal process. There are two teams: the defense and the prosecution. On March 3 and 8, the trial dates, Collegiate will be competing against Henrico Highschool.

Varsity Videoers could often be seen around Collegiate with their cameras. The members of this organization were responsible for the audio-visual equipment. Under the guidance of Mrs. Kay Remick, the members prepared movies for the alumni to view at reunions, taped boy's and girl's atheletic events, and taped teacher's classes for evaluation.

Scholars, Journalists Honored

A new honor society at Collegiate started this year with the tapping of 12 members. Cum Laude is a society for the students in the upper tenth of their class, and membership is based solely on academics. Another induction of members will take place at commencement for those students in the upper 20% of their class. The guest speaker was Emmett Wright, III. This society will take the place of National Honor Society at Collegiate.

The Quill & Scroll Society tapped 15 new members on February 21. For the first time, teachers as well as juniors and seniors were honored with membership. To become a member, a student must have contributed strongly to some area of journalism and academically be in the top third of his or her class. After the induction of new members, quest speaker Mike Steele talked about what a writer is.

Cum Laude. First Row: John Rowe, Anna Holsinger, Sara Massie. Second Row: Nicky Midis, Charley Scher, Glenn Hopkins, Janet Murray, Hannah Reeves, John Campbell, Tisha Allen, Lisa Payne, Andy Schneider.

Academic Excellence

Curriculum Committee: Vicky Joynt, Wendy Joel, Diana Cherry, Anna Holsinger, Hope Rennie, Jill Schneider, Susan Patterson, Lisa Payne, chairman.

The Curriculum Committee began the year by tabulating the responses of Collegiate's recent alumnae to a survey concerning how well the school prepared them for college.

Under the leadership of Lisa Payne, the committee then evaluated the effectiveness of summer reading. It also compiled a list of books which colleges expected students to have read before finishing high school.

Collegiate is one of only a few schools in the Richmond area to have a chapter of the National Spanish Honor Society.

This organization represents excellence in the field of Spanish. To be a member, a student must maintain an "A" average for two consecutive semesters in Spanish class. There are thirteen members this year, led by president David Clary.

Collegiate's Spanish scholars are fortunate to have an enthusiastic sponsor, Mrs. Vanessa Allen, who obtained our chapter of the organization.

Who are you? You are the participants in extra-curricular events. You are the prototypes of Student Life. You distinguish Collegiate from other schools. You are involved in many facets of Student Life, thus enriching the lives of others in the Collegiate community.

STUDENT LIFE

VGF Provides Fun

The Village Green Fair was a big success this year in raising money for the American Field Service, AFS, and in raising fun for everyone.

The Fair's activities included Putt-Putt golf, hockey, car bash, pony rides, go-cart rides, and a raffle in which many nice prizes were given away.

The afternoon at the Fair was best described by a young girl who said, "I love it because I can see my friends and just have fun!"

All Loved Luau

On May 21, the Juniors and Seniors made a trip to Hawaii. No, they did not travel to the real island, but to the transformed, tropical Memorial Hall. Palm trees, surfboards, and manakins dressed in Hawaiian shirts and grass skirts were among the festive decorations. To add to the tropical atmosphere, each junior and senior received a lei. The band, "Casper", played a variety of music which seemed to please everyone. The dancers left their tropical island to go to the various breakfasts that were held. Students stayed at the breakfasts until the wee morning hours to end their fun-filled night in Hawaii.

Jackie Crowned Queen

For the first time in two years, May Day festivities were held outside. The seniors and their flower girls proceeded down the wet grass while squinting in the sun. Everyone was excited about holding May Day outside but had trouble remembering how.

Jackie Whitmore was crowned "Queen of May" by Maid of Honor, Patricia Twohy. Other members of the Queen's court included Leigh Compton and Jennie Bell, Jackie's flower girls, and Helen Reed and Owen Inge, Patricia's flower girls.

May Day was a sunny success, and everyone involved remember it as having, according to Anne Overton, "the most beautiful May Queen ever!"

Fleurs Are Surprised

The words, "Will you be my flower girl?" strike terror into the minds of drowsy juniors and sophomores when they realize they are make-upless. This exhausting, frantic, and riotous tradition took place early Saturday, September 11. Anne Patteson was awakened by squirt guns and remembers only that the notorious question was posed from a voice behind twenty people. Kelly Pruitt never answered her senior, but she did brush her hair. The Seniors and their fleurs met at Sambo's and were entertained by the fast waiters.

Rings in December and "Mary Poppins" accelerated the pre-vacation excitement between the juniors and seniors. Wherever they go, the fleurs will remember the year of Meredith Fitz — Hugh's garbage bag party.

Class of '82: Now Alumni

Grove Avenue Baptist Church was the location, once again, for Commencement exercises on June 10, 1982. Seniors experienced the common feelings of pride, excitement, and sorrow as they received diplomas and congratulations from faculty and friends.

Ms. Angela Mavie Bay Buchanan, Treasurer of the U.S.A., was the guest speaker who spoke about the impact of the new alumni on the future of America. Student speakers Vint Myers and Holly Schmidt followed Ms. Buchanan. Awards went to senior boys David Shanon, Ross Hotchkiss, Jamie Curry, and William Reeves. Girls awards went to Sophie White, Holly Schmidt, Catherine Maynard, Catherine Laughan, and Anna Holsinger.

After a reception at the church, seniors went to Tim Spivey's house for a bluegrass party, much to the chagrin of the neighbors!

Summer Exploration

To Collegiate students, Summer means the Beach, summer school, Economics Institute, camping, and international living. Beach Week always attracts the most participants and is memorable to all. Two Collegiate students explored foreign life. Senior Mimi Vaughan discovered Switzerland while Junior Brent Prevatt visited the true "Old Country" — England. Seniors Michael Bland and Amanda Little participated in the summer sessions at Phillips Academy and Choate Rosemary Hall in New England. The "Summertime Blues" allow students to relax and explore.

MATTRESS Is Sleeper

The Collegiate Chorus presented the musical Once Upon a Mattress on Thursday, March 4, Friday, March 5, and Saturday, March 6. Until opening night, audiences were apprehensive as to what to expect from a musical based on the "Princess and the Pea" fable. Kira Heizer, who played Princess Winnifred, amused audiences in her insomnia scene, where a pea placed under many mattresses caused "Fred" to lose sleep, proving her to be a princess. Other characters captivated the audience with their eccentricies; King Sextimus (James Barnes) was the mute, yet lovable husband to the domineering Queen Aggravain (Felicia Wilhoite); Prince Dauntless the Drab (Steve Miller) whined throughout the play, while attempting to win Winnifred's affection; Sir Harry (Jeff Crater) charmed his lady with a "Close-Up" smile and a "Coppertone tan."

Once Upon a Mattresss surprised its audiences with an unusual plot supported by the enthusiasm of Mr. Cooke's accomplished Chorus.

New Faces Debut In Our Town

Collegiate theatre audiences paid a visit to Grover's Corners, N.H. May 6, 7, and 8. Although a veteran actor, Dr. Greg Hall debuted on the Collegiate stage as the Stage Manager. Other debut performances included Brian Reames as George Gibbs, Cathy Ratcliffe as Emily Webb, Doug Reed as Professor Willard, and Margaret Rada as Rebecca. Two other faculty members contributed their talent to the show as Simon Stimson (Dr. Hopewell) and Editor Webb (Mr. Shields). "Nice town, y'know what I mean," commented the Stage Manager to the audience.

SHREW is a Success

The Collegiate Players presented William Shakespeare's The Taming of the Shrew for their Autumn Production. Under the direction of Mr. Thomas Hilterbrant, veteran Thespians and newcomers to the stage compiled the cast. As Kate the Shrew, Wendy Joel gave an energetic performance. Petruchio, Kate's mad husband was portrayed by P.E. Instructor Kent Gay, who encountered his first experience onstage. Bianca, Kate's sister, was portrayed by Senior Vicky Joynt; Senior Jeff Crater played Bianca's victorious suitor, Lucentio. Hortensio, Bianca's other suitor was portrayed by Sophmore Tim Stone. Others in the cast included Dr. John Hopewell as Baptista, Senior James Barnes as Gremio, Senior Kathy Landwehr as Biondello, Sophomore Danny Peck as Tranio, and Sophomore Doug Reed as Grumio. Dr. Greg Hall also joined the players for his second Collegiate show as Vincentio, Lucentio's father.

"You Can't Take It With You"

The Collegiate players presented the comedy You Can't Take It With You by George S. Kaufman on April 7, 8, and 9. The plot centered around an eccentric New York family, the Sycamores. Their daughter, Alice (Jenny Payne) and a proper young executive Tony Kirby (Tim Stone) are the two star-crossed lovers who, after much ado, marry at the end of the play. Other key players were Dr. Greg Hall as the grandfather, Martin Vanderhoff, Brian Reames and Sarah Paxton, as Mr. and Mrs. Sycamore, Kathy Landwehr as Essie, Jeff Armstrong and Margaret Swezey as the Kirbys, and Wendy Joel as Olga Katuna.

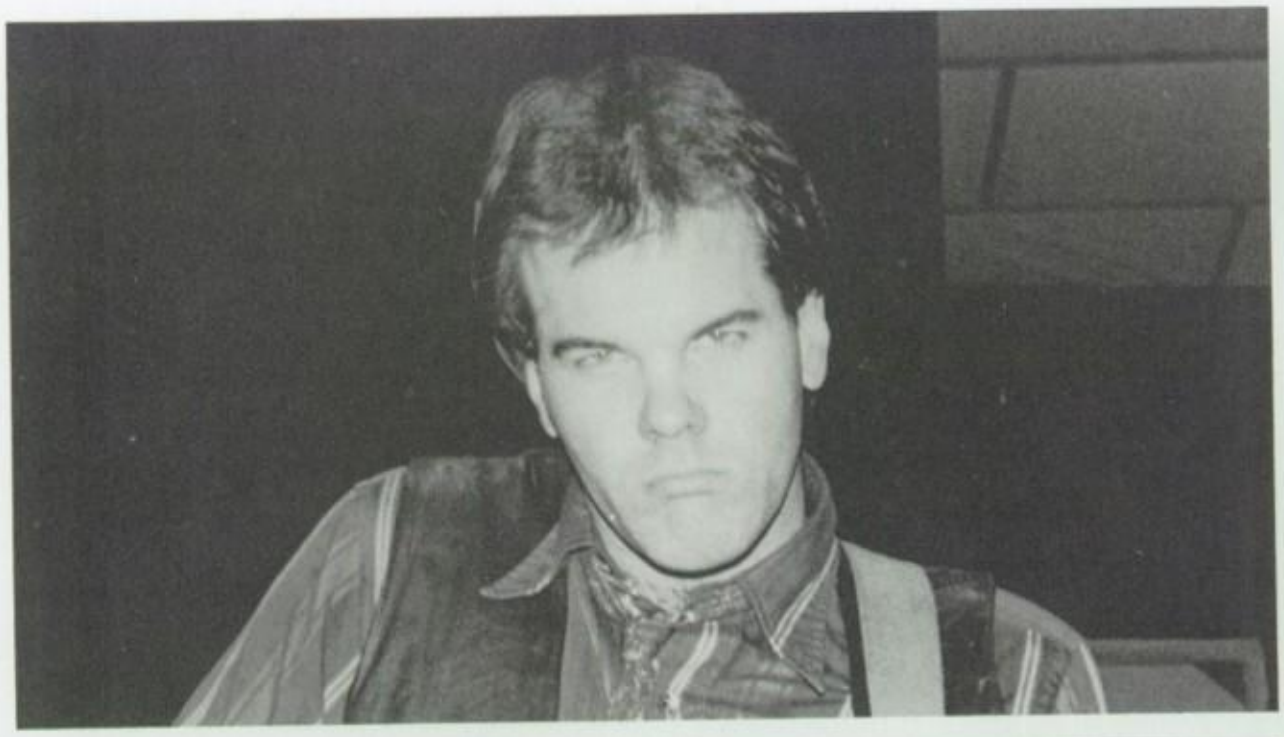
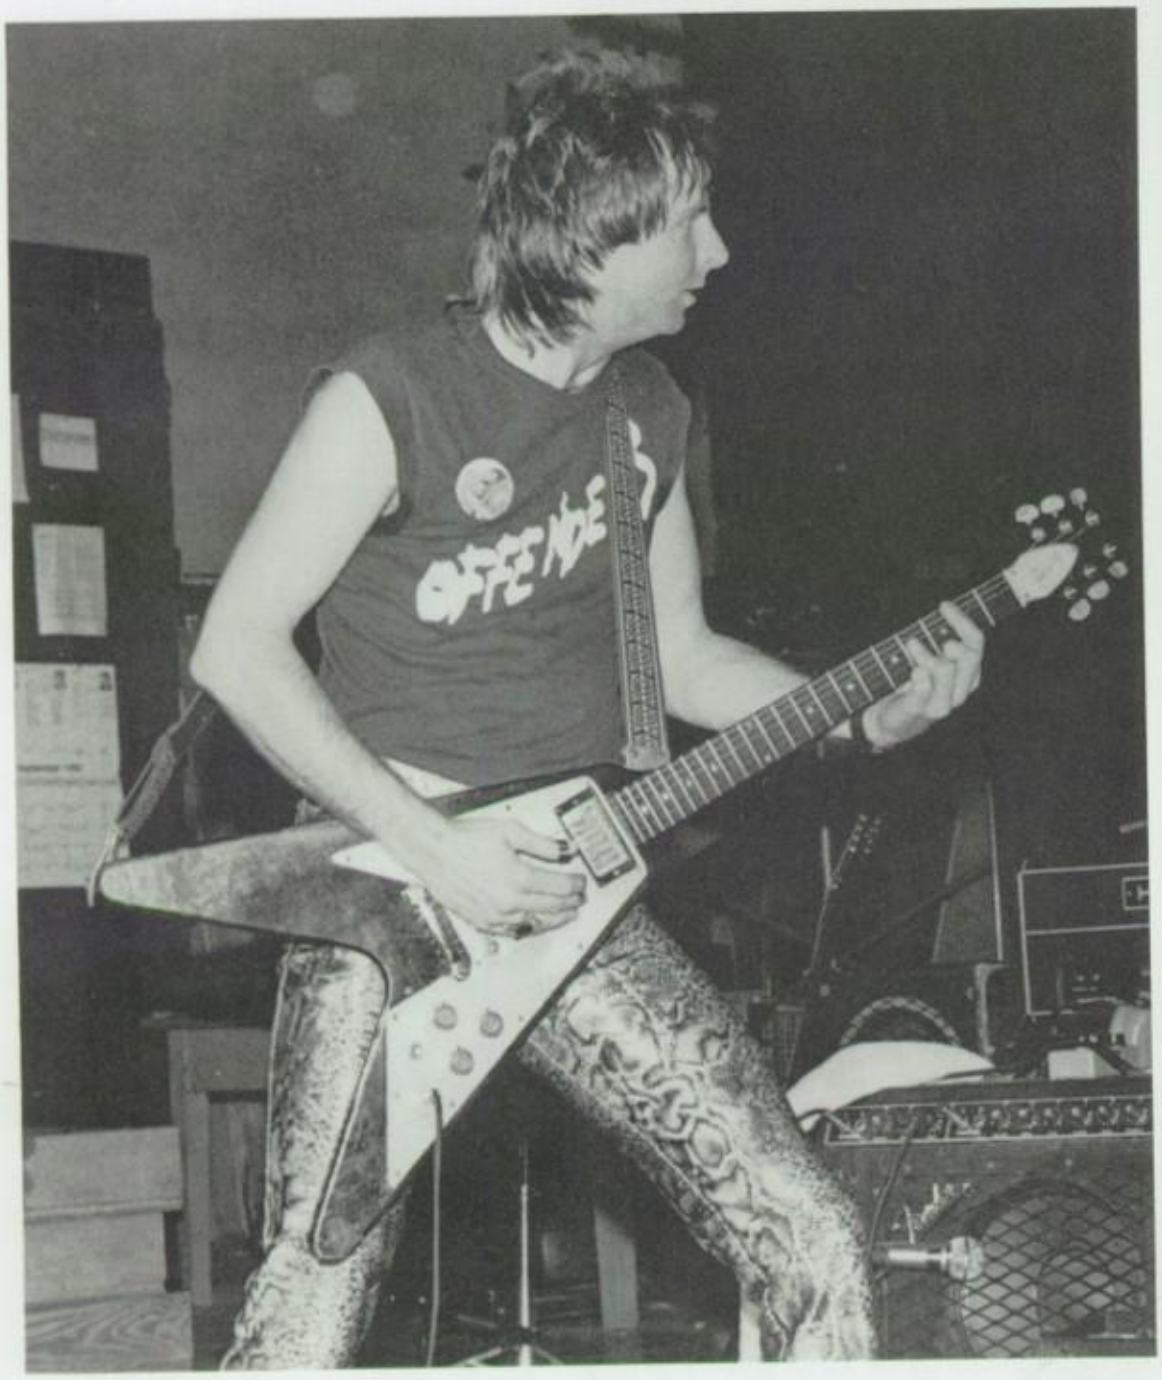
Get Offended!

Once again, Memorial Hall was packed with fans eager to "get offended." Collegiate Overtime sponsored the event as profits soared.

Bruce Olsen, lead singer for Collegiate's favorite band, The Offenders, hosted the show. The audience was kept mesmerized throughout the entire show, which contained many favorite selections. The crowd would literally not go home, their rowdy and enthusiastic behavior forcing two encores in which Olsen was joined onstage by several members of the audience.

The performance was a complete success, as Overtime member Gordon Stettinius put it, "I sure hope we can get them back next year."





Top: Bassit Rick Gruesome mugs for the camera. Above: "Did you know that twenty snakes had to die to make this man's pants?" Right: Bruce Olsen loves that rock and roll.

Get Fried!

Friday, October 29 was the date set for the annual Key Club Chicken Dinner and Talent Show. Hosted by those two comic geniuses Scott Sutton and Ann Scott, the audience was kept in a constant state of laughter.

Outstanding skits included Margie Lansinger and Bill Viverette playing the parts of Moon Unit and Frank Zappa, respectively. Sarah Dalton's and Eric Towell's portrayals of Mary Kaye Milmoe and Brian Reames also garnered a few laughs. The cheerleaders' satire of the faculty featuring Mary Kaye as the "fat fairy" has been called a classic.

The evening's top honors went to The Amazing Andy (for magic), Doug Reed (for his imitation of Richard Simmons), and Key Club (for some rather controversial faculty imitations). The show was judged by Mrs. Griffin, Dr. Hall, and Dr. "asprin" Hailes.

Victory Fills Day

Exhilirating, suspenseful, and surprising are all words which could be used to describe the 1982 Collegiate Homecoming. Although it started out on a bad note, with the bonfire being held in the gym, the rest of the festivities proved to be very successful.

The game, which was dedicated to the injured Paul Thompson, was the final win in our 10-0 record. The outcome was an extremely close 7-6. Our touchdown was scored in the second quarter by John Harper. The Saints were surprising in that they actually did play quite well, but they failed in their two-point conversion after their touchdown.

Homecoming Queen Susan Macon was crowned at half-time. The other Princesses were Helen Reed, Mary Kay Milmoe, Elizabeth Andrews, Karen Bazan, Sandra Meulenbelt, and Norvell Beazley. Princesses, queen, and escorts walked back to their seats amidst the applause of the crowd.

Mary Is Madonna

This year, the most cherished tradition of the Girls School, the Christmas Pageant, was presented on December 15 and 16. With Mary Webber portraying the Madonna and Elizabeth Kay as Joseph, the Pageant was a splendid event.

Its splendor was exemplified when the three kings Chris Cruickshank, the Wise King, Jill Patton, the Wealthy King, and Beth Anne Nelson, the Soldier King, presented their gifts to the Holy Child.

The Pageant, as always, was a portrayal of the story of the nativity. Different scenes such as the villagers, heavenly host, and the little lame shepherd depicted Mary and Joseph's journey from Nazareth to Bethlehem.

Despite certain obstacles such as many missing cast members, the Pageant was a success and as Mr. Cooke stated, the Glee Club sounded better than it ever had before.

WELCOME TO 17

The 1982-83 seniors would surely identify with the many tasks that awaited this year's junior class, and even more so with the troubles that temporarily delayed their work. Besides being faced with the problems of a leaky warehouse roof and unlearned songs, some of the juniors' equipment and scenery was vandalized and destroyed. However, all systems were go when a new warehouse was discovered and soon filled with new supplies. Everything was pulled together for a terrific dress rehearsal and an even better performance for the students and faculty. Mary Poppins was a total success, thanks to all of the hard work of the juniors, and the cast of Sarah Paxton as Mary, Anne Patteson as Burt, Nene Fleming as Jane Banks, Erin McGrath as Michael Banks, Leslie Barrett as Mr. Banks, and Beth Mitchell as the Pigeon Lady. We hope the memory of 17 Cherry Tree Lane will be always enchanting and full of happiness for our seniors, the class of 1983.

CHERRY TREE LANE

An Off-White Christmas

Every year, just before Christmas vacation, the entire Boys' School crowds before a giant log in the front hall. After a few words by Mr. Pitt and Mr. Reeves, the log is lit and students disperse. The lighting of the log is followed by Key Club's Yule Log Night, especially memorable this year. The Middle School boys teach the meaning of Christmas in their annual Lessons and Carols Service.

The Girls' School traditions include the morning service before the Brunch where students read Biblical passages. After a long half hour of anticipation, the Seniors are led to the transformed cafeteria, where, this year, Mary Poppins flew in.

ORGANIZATIONS

Undercover Interact

President Paul Thompson led the 1982-1983 Interact Club through a successful year filled with many helpful activities. They began the year by sponsoring the school's barbeque and dance following the season's first win in their 10-0 football streak. The group showed participation in the International Food Festival as well. Many autumn weekends were spent raking leaves. They also set up and supported the annual blood drive at Collegiate. Joined by sweethearts Sarah Dalton, Margie Lansinger, Susan Macon, Tisha Allen and Lisa Coleman, interact had much support from all of its members. One rule: never confuse Interact with "that other club." As senior member Charlie Liebert put it, "Interact is basically a cool group doing only the best activities."

Key Club Serves

Kicking off the year by helping at the International Foods Festival, The Key Club got off to a good start. Fulfilling their role as a service club, Key Club could be found parking cars at Church services, ringing bells for the Salvation Army, or painting fences. One productive service was assisting Monogram Club in providing funds for a stereo system in the locker room.

As always, the highlights of the Key Club year were the Chicken Dinner and the Yule Log night. Andy Schneider won the Talent division with his magic and Key Club itself won the award for the most humorous skit at the Talent Show.

The Christmas festivities began with the traditional Yule Log Ceremony (not to mention helping decorate for the Brunch). A dinner was also provided for the administration and a hefty donation to the Richmond area Christmas Mother.

To sum it all up, this year proved to be a fine one for the Collegiate Key Club.

Student Cooperative

The 1982-1983 SCA was prductive in that it initiated new projects and changes in policies. In addition to the joint boy's and girl's SCA's traditional responsibilities such as the organization of Homecoming activities and the sale of blue books, the girls also sold carnations for Valentines Day and sponsored the Father-Daughter Dance, while the boys sponsored the new students and held a barbeque after the first football game.

The biggest event in the Girls school this year was the SCA sponsored Student Emphasis Day on November 23. This day featured classes taught by students and provided time during which students could ask questions and discuss ideas in a relaxed atmosphere. The feedback from students was, for the most part, positive and encouraging.

The changes which were initiated included a new method of hanging the Homecoming "heads" from helium balloons, as well as an adjustment in the handbook which resulted in a less restrictive dress code.

The SCA was very productive this year and successfully completed many projects and was a great asset to the school.

Middle School Leaders

The Boys and Girls Middle School Student Cooperative Association, SCA, were very busy this year. The Girls SCA, led by Susan Tolleson and faculty member Mrs. Nancy Dunnavant, worked to eradicate the problems in the Girls Middle School. The members also undertook new projects for "intermediates only" such as the "cougar classifieds" and selling halos at Christmas.

The Boys School SCA members, led by Andy Nimmo and faculty advisor Mr. Weldon Bradshaw, worked to make new and easier rules to uphold. The boys, along with the girls, discovered a new secret to success: free movies. By showing popular movies such as "Dr. No" and "Monte Python and the Holy Grail," they were able to lure audiences to the shows where they sold popcorn and drinks to make a profit.

By serving as links between the students and the faculty and initiating new projects, both SCA's had a very productive year.

Judicial Board Enforces Policy

The Judicial Board, under the leadership of president Mimi Vaughan, was successful in revising old rules such as the study hall regulations. These rules place more responsibility on the student and have been very successful.

With the help of faculty assistant Helen Tanner, the Judicial Board has organized productive projects for detention and demerit stay-ins and helped the Honor Council by hearing appeals.

Council Promotes Integrity

The two major functions of the Collegiate Honor Council are "to further instill principles of honesty into each student and to help those who don't fully understand the value of honor," according to Boys School President, Nicky Midis.

Both schools merge on the Honor Code itself but vary on procedure. The Boys Honor Council holds a preliminary hearing and decides upon a trial. If the "defendant" is guilty, the council recommends punishment to Mr. Reeves. The Girls Honor Council first allows the accused to present her case and, after hearing other witnesses, decides the guilt or innocence of the student. If guilty, the student proceeds to Mrs. Williams who determines her punishment. The punishments vary from talking with the respective headmaster to expulsion.

The Girls School Honor Council has taken a more active role in the student government and altered the election of its members. There have been problems in the system, but relatively few cases. As Chairman Katherine Walker stated, "The most important quality here is trust, and when the Honor Code is broken, people loose faith in their fellow students, which is the worst thing that can happen."

Johanna Josephs, head of the Service Committee, stresses the need to give to those who are less fortunate than ourselves.

Johanna followed up on her statement by holding successful magazine, can, and Christmas gift drives for various organizations.

The Service Committee also helped the Ronald McDonald house by raising money from a jeans day. It once again sponsered Dennis George, the orphaned Indian boy, with money from the classes.

Johanna hopes that in the future there will be time for the girls to visit the elderly and help the Vietnamese Refugees.

The Exchange committee is another important organization at Collegiate. Headed by Beth Reams and Mary Kaye Milmoe, the committee hopes to learn and improve Collegiate by visiting other schools. The committee has had successful exchanges with Godwin, St. Catherines, Patrick Henry, and Benedictine.

Exchange Committee: First Row: L. Lawson, advisor; M. Geho, B. Nott, W. Atiyeh, A. Cecil, B. Reams, Co-Chairman; A.M. Johnson, M.K. Milmoe, Co-Chairman; S. Crenshaw, R. Fleming, L. Rice, S. AFS Imports

The 1982-83 American Field Service Committee looked forward to a very enthusiastic year under the leadership of Chairmen Helen Reed and John Harper. There were three AFS dinners throughout the year where Richmond-area AFSers could get acquainted and sample international cuisine. The annual XL-102 vs. Faculty basketball game raised money for the committee as did the AFS booth at the Village Green Fair. The AFS students, Karen Bazan and Atsuyuki Kugimiya, welcomed the Collegiate rings given to them by the Senior class. Although each AFS event was a success, the TORCH picture generated the greatest response.

Joint Chapel/Collegiate Overtime

Joint Chapel Committee: Sara Massie, Rebecca Pevsner, Lisa Payne, Dr. Roger Hailes, Meg Patterson, Mary Kaye Milmoe, Elizabeth Andrews, Anne Marie Shaia.

The Collegiate and Overtime committees, because of their similar duties, merged together this year to form one dance committee. Under the leadership of Michael Deep and Helen Reed, the committee started off the year with a blast. The Offenders made their second appearance at Collegiate on the third weekend of the school year. This concert dance attracted a huge audience and brought the committee a record-breaking profit.

New ideas, a hard working committee, and active student participation allowed this year's committee to achieve its purpose and provide fun for all those involved.

Also held in the cafeteria are the joint chapels. Under the leadership of Roger Hailes, the joint chapel committee coordinated the speakers to talk at each of the chapels, held twice a week.

The Eccentric XXX

XXX is a secret organization in the Girls school and consists of six members. It is the oldest club in the history of our school, and was originally called the KKK. This name was later changed to the present name of the group. It was founded by Mrs. Catherine Flippen. The committee does secret work, and is anxious to let the Key Club know that XXX is not against them. The rest is unknown to those who do not belong to this secret association.

The Athletic Council is an organization created to promote school spirit. They support the girls' sports events to help them to victory.

The council, headed by Ann Scott, is made up of green and gold representatives from each class in the Intermediate and Upper girls school. Each supportive club, such as the cheerleaders, has a representative in the committee as well. Mrs. Gwen Donohue acts as the advisor.

The council's traditional duties consist of decorating the athletic bulletin board, advertising for games, and organizing competition between the green and gold teams. They also organized the athletic banquet at the end of the year for all girls on varsity sports.

The Monogram club, under the guidance of president Jeff Armstrong, had another fine year. Besides enhancing the gym by donating a stereo, the Monogram club also assisted other teams visiting the school.

The highlight of the Monogram year would have been the bonfire. However, this year was different in that there was no bonfire due to the rain and fire marshall's warning.

Voices Show Talent

The 1983 Glee Club and Chorus were kept busy this year. In addition to singing in chapel during Thanksgiving and Christmas, the Chorus was also invited to sing at the Federal Reserve Bank in downtown Richmond.

Led by the incomparable Charles "Tiger" Cooke and assisted by Mrs. Nancy Archbell, the vocal stylings of the two groups could be heard anytime from the Girls School Christmas Pageant to May Day to Graduation.

Players Intrigue

Involvement! That's the key word of the Thespian troupe this year. Aside from hosting the Thespian conference for the first time since 1964, Mr. Thomas Hilderbrandt has successfully revived the club by involving the entire school. Wendy Joel feels "Mr. Hilderbrandt really cares about the department and our school's interests."

The new feature of faculty cast members gives teachers a chance to participate in forms of student life other than the classroom. Although the club considers Taming of the Shrew to be its main production, they are also excited about You Can't Take It With You.

Kathy Landwher holds the president's office this year and Chris Crulckshank acts as vice-president for this talented group.

Flame Sparks Imagination

Stalking the wild sonnet: Sometimes would-be creative minds need a little pushing. More often, the Flame staff discovered, they need a hard shove. Suddenly — shy students showed reluctance to submit their work for publication, causing the staff to desperately plot ways of entrapping the elusive "Flame poem."

Emergency meetings were called at lunch and after school, as well as during more hallowed times of the day. The "traditional" final meeting was a marathon which resulted in yet another scintillating issue of the annual literary magazine, complete with poetry, short stories, drawings, and photographs.

The hard work and dedication of Faculty advisor Miss Sally Schreiber have resulted in seven Flames, and without her, undeniably, the esteemed literary magazine would not be published. One devoted disciple proclaimed, "She is the Flame." But not without the fearless Flame staff in pursuit of their evasive quarry.

TORCH Staff???

LOST: One 1983 TORCH staff. If found return to Hugh Johnston for reward . . . Well, the year began well, at least. There were Spring Sports prints (minus Girls' LaX), and even May Day (sorry Rives). But, where was the staff that lovely afternoon in December? Snowed in, of course. Theme? What theme? Maybe we could do "E.T." or "Pac-Man?" Deadlines have come and gone and staff members have slipped into the "Twilight Zone." Despite our differences and our instances of panic, the "Elite Staff" has managed to expose another long-awaited book of the Year in pictures, copy, headlines & captions (what?), sports and weekends. The Class of 1983

Collegiate can consider itself blessed to have been in the presence of the Class of 1983. For as many as fifteen years these individuals have been contributing to the school and adding to its ambience, not to mention its intellectual and athletic prowess. While over half the class made honor role, others found themselves showered with athletic awards.

Athletes and brains are only a small part of the Class of '83. It is an extremely diverse group of people whose interests are numerous. Alligators were worn but they weren't dominant. Overlaping styles among the seniors were as different as the overlaping shirts so popular this year. The "Dead Heads" added their own spice as did the loyal new wave music followers. There were those who loved to party and those who prefered to use their time more constructively. Regardless, most everyone got along and accepted each other, which made for a close-knit and comfortable bunch of people.

Shockoe Slip, Centerville Market, no Boy's Senior Study, National Merit Scholars, and two year Seniors all played a significant role in the class of 1983.

Juniors

While anxiously waiting their chance to dethrone the reigning Class of 1983, the juniors found plenty to do to occupy their time.

Beginning in August, the girls worked on the Brunch every Sunday afternoon until "Mary Poppins" was finally unveiled.

Also starting in August, the boys endured "two-a-days" on the football field until school began. The team played or practiced five days a week through the season until the final victory over the Saints Nov. 13.

Junior girls enjoyed blowing bubbles in the halls, partying at 76th street and the Ramada Inn, going to concerts, dancing, cheering, being flower girls, and (unfortunately) taking SATs and Achievements.

The boys had fun hitting "C'ville" and playing quarters at parties, Howard Johnson's, Ramada Inn, 76th street, 54th street, or anywhere else with a flat surface for that matter. The boys also participated acitvely in most of the varsity sports and even some of the school publications.

With the help of teachers like Mr. Lemire, Dr. Hall, Mrs. Epes, Mrs. Dickens, Mr. Livy (and of course) Mrs. Griffin, the juniors think they'll be able to handle their upcoming senior year.

What Is Dying?

I am standing upon the seashore. A ship at my side spreads her white sails to the morning breeze and starts for the blue ocean. She is an object of beauty and strength and I stand and watch her until at length she hangs like a speck of white cloud just where the sea and sky come down to mingle with each other. Then someone at my side says, "There! She's gone."

"Gone where?"

"Gone from my sight — that is all. She is just as large in mast and hull and spar as she was when she left my side, and just as able to bear her load of living freight to the place of destination. Her diminished size is in me, not in her, and just at the moment when someone at my side says, 'There! She's gone' there are other eyes watching her coming and other voices ready to take up the glad shout: 'There she comes!' and that is dying."

Sophomores

The sophomore class had a great 1982-1983 term. Some of the highlights were: getting their licenses, participating in varsity sports, and some girls were chosen as flower girls by the seniors. Though the work was tough, the homework excessive, and the pressures increased, the sophomores found time to attend parties, dance and utilize their weekends to the fullest extent.

The class of 1985 is looking forward to beachweek '83 and a relaxing summer. As Troy Arnold stated, "If we keep up the team spirit, this class has a promising future!

Freshmen

With their ascent into the Upper School, this year's freshman class was forced to make a few adjustments, but they adapted quite well, and soon discovered the privileges of being in the Upper School. For the ninth grade boys, it provided the opportunity to play on J.V. teams, while dances and joint chapels supplied a welcomed social escape from the daily grind. The girls also enjoyed the freedom of being in the Upper School, the social activities, and the chance to play in varsity sports.

In addition to their other talents, the class of 1986 has shown academic process as well. This freshmen class is definitely a well-rounded group and will certainly prove to be an asset to the school in their next three years.

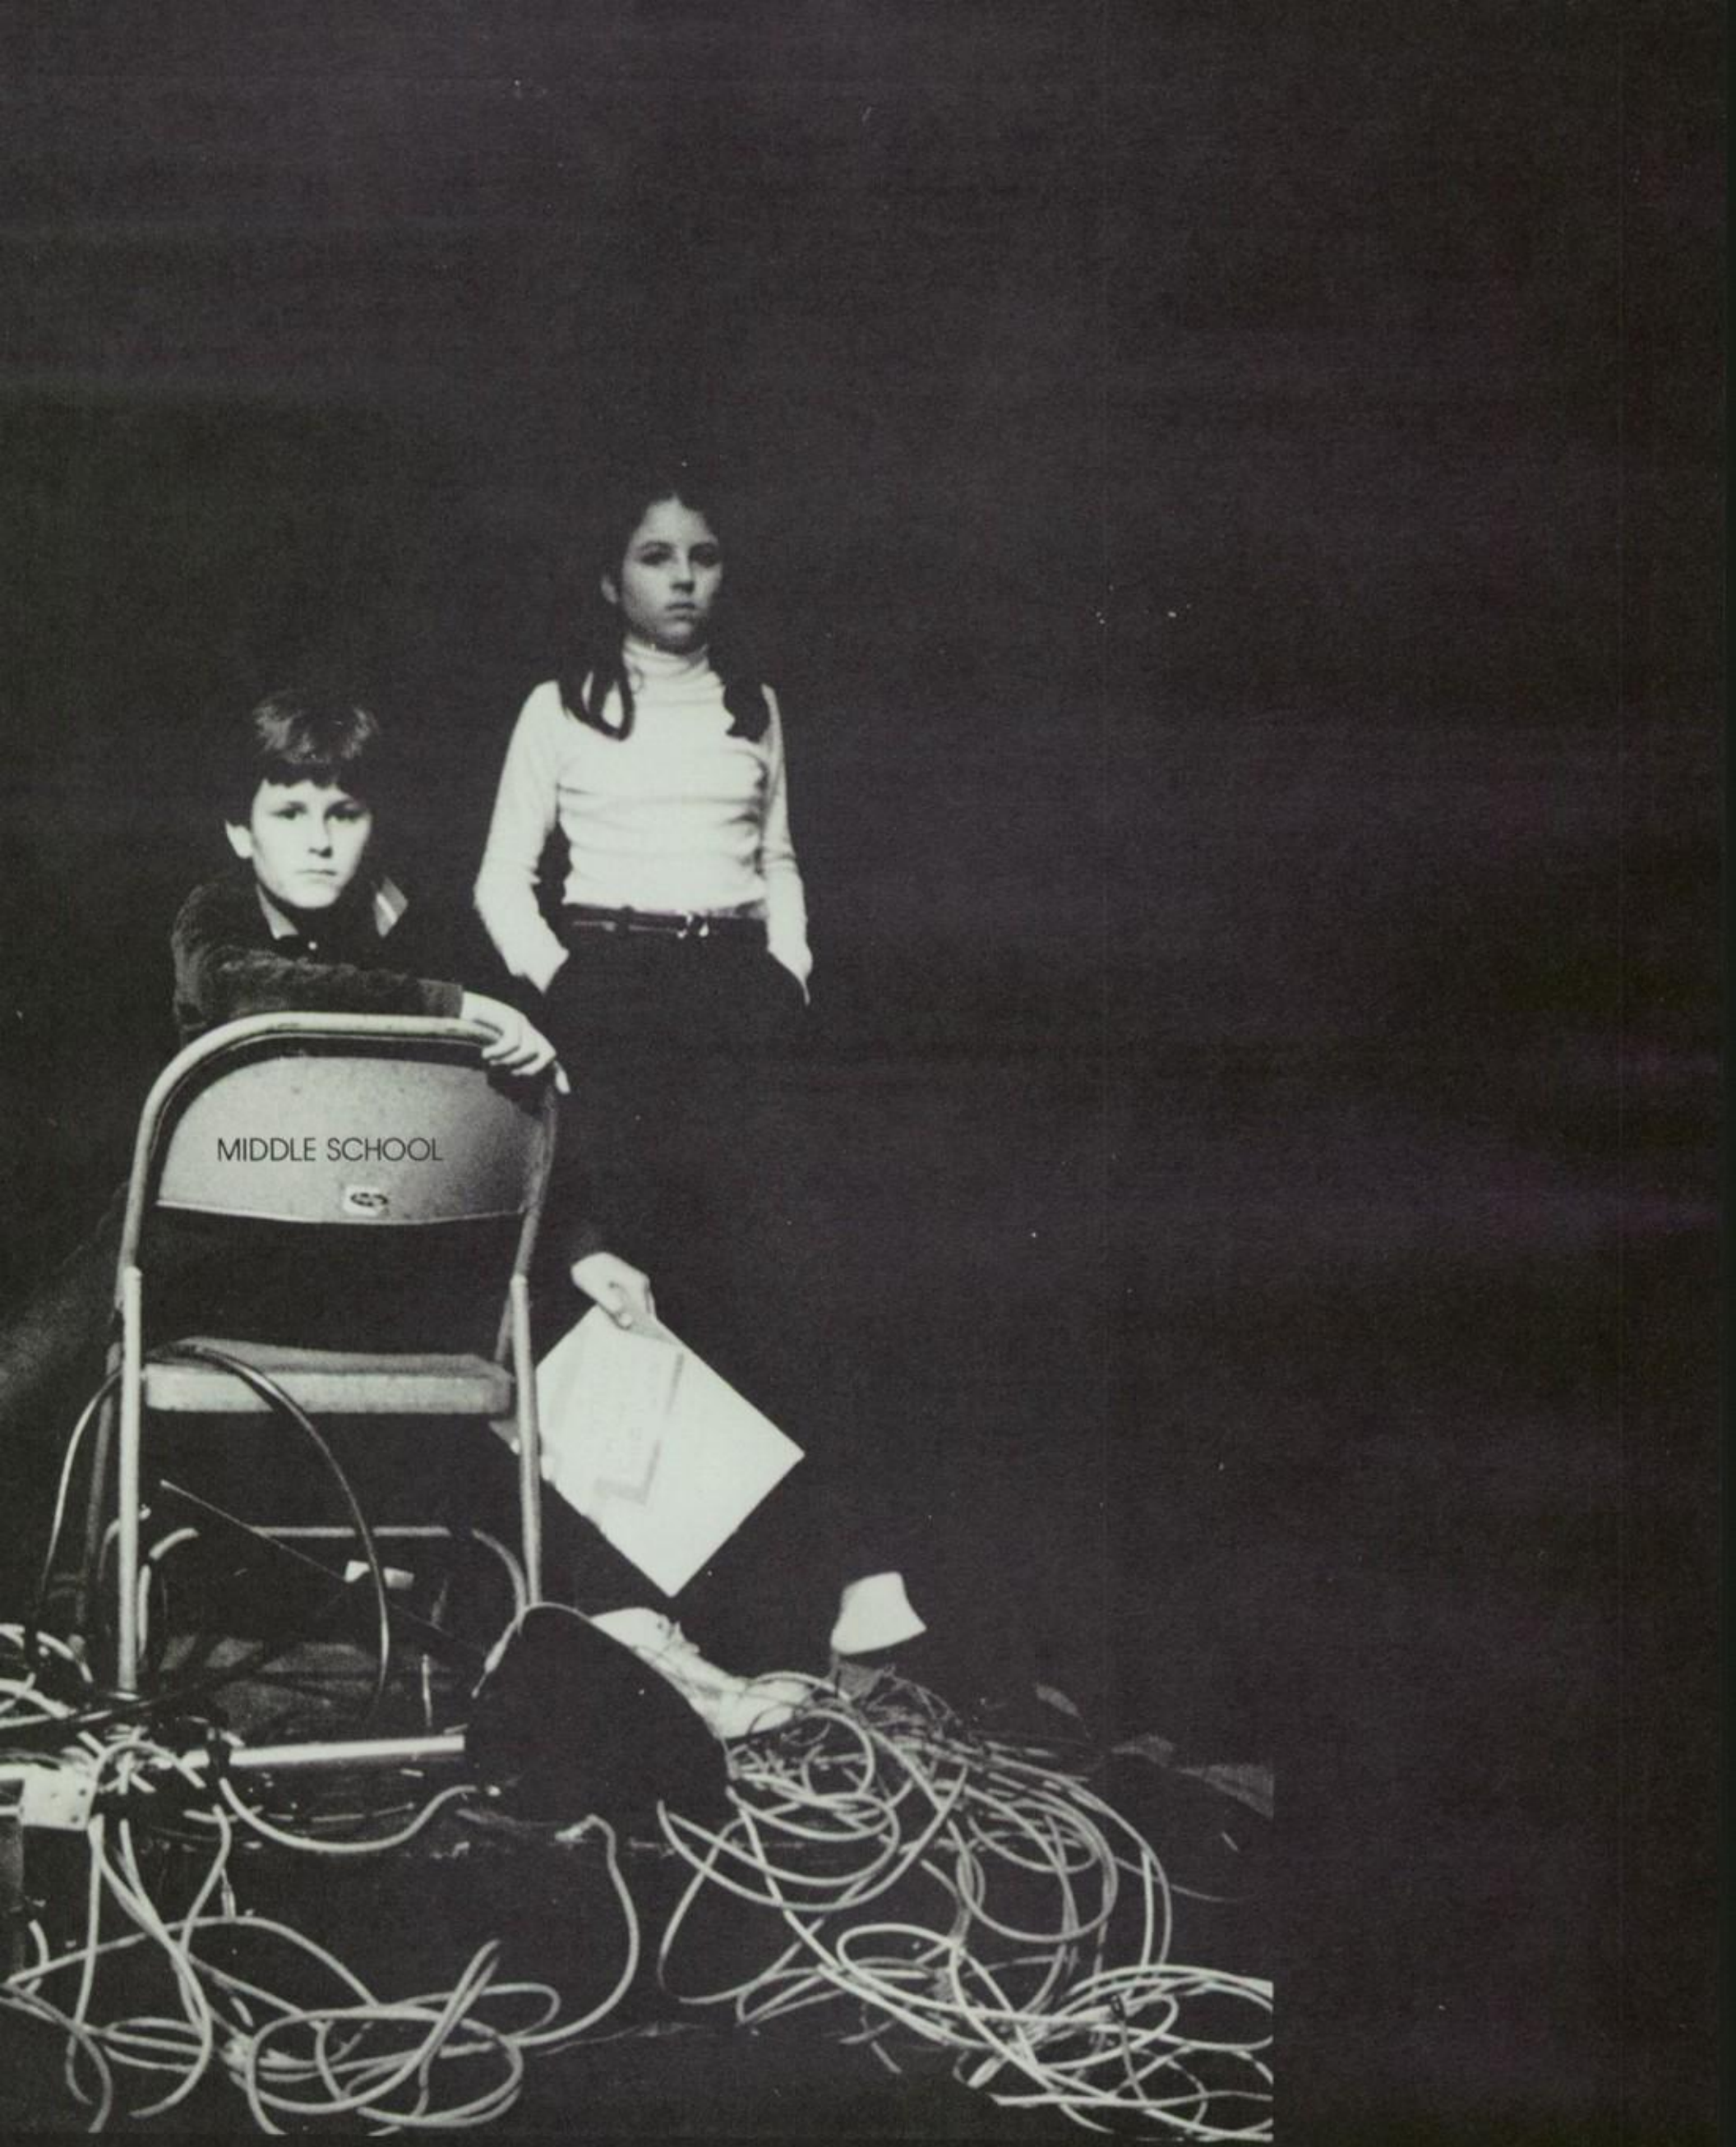
Who are you? You are the Middle School. You are discovering the opportunities that await you in the Upper School. You follow fads, set trends, emulate Seniors, and still remain unique. You have outgrown Lower School pastimes, and yet, you are forever learning and growing.



MIDDLE SCHOOL

Eighth Grade

"Leaders of the Intermediate School." This was the characterizing thought of all of the eighth graders.

The girls kept themselves busy this year with service projects such as stuffing bags at Christmas and hostessing at plays. Highlights of their year were: participation on J.V. teams, a surprise field trip to see the play Brigadoon, and everyone standing up for them at assemblies.

The boys enjoyed successful athletic seasons, beating St. Christophers, and seeing more of their female counterparts at eighth grade socials. Both the boys and the girls are eagerly anticipating the ninth grade and the freedoms of the Upper School.

Seventh Grade

The seventh graders feel that they have more freedom this year. The boys are competing against other schools in athletics for the first time. Their football record was 3-0. The girls are also experiencing new things. For the first time they are in one homeroom, rather than separate classes in the Upper School. This means that they must suffer through the horrors of that hall.

Both the boys and the girls feel that the worst thing about the seventh grade is having to take those dreaded exams. However, things aren't all bad, and they are looking forward to being the oldest in the Intermediate school next year.

Sixth Grade

"School hasn't been that bad this year," stated Lenny Bellet, a sixth grade boy. Ashley Crawford, one of the girls, also stated that she was glad not to be the youngest anymore.

For the girls, sixth grade is a time to "start worrying about looks and boys." It is their last year of recess, so they try to get the most out of their last free periods by playing dodgeball and building forts. The boys, however, love their Athletic Program and are looking forward to next year when they get to play other schools. Also as one boy says, "Athletics is when we are finally free."

"For the most part, the best part of school is getting out for vacation."

Remember moving up to the fifth grade? The new Middle School way of life, athletics, more homework, demerits or detentions, and the splitting of girls and boys were all new things that everyone had to get used to.

The class of 1990 had a little trouble adjusting, but as Robert Owen said, "It's like starting over, like being the youngest of the school, but we're used to it now."

Most fifth graders like math, science, and, of course, athletics with Coach Chambers. Also they said they liked having study halls because they could get their homework done. The girls especially liked playing dodgeball at recess and participating in the Christmas Pageant.

All things considered, the fifth graders seemed to think it all Awesome!!"

Fourth Grade

Soccer and trading stickers were the highlights of the fourth graders' year. The art of trading stickers consists of buying stickers at Merrymaker and then trading them amongst friends. This was a new and popular activity in the lower school. The boys who were not interested in stickers were enthusiastic soccer fans and players.

Academically, the fourth graders had a busy year. This was the first year they switched classes. A favorite subject was economics which was taught on the television. The fourth graders had a great year and are excited about moving to the Middle School next year.

Third Grade

When asked what they enjoyed about being in the third grade, the answers varied from everything to nothing. Within these categories were such things as recess, free reading, lunch and dismissal. Soccer was unanimously the favored sport amongst the boys while the girls preferred dodgeball.

The third graders were kept busy this year with the increased workload and more homework. They felt that because they were older and almost the leaders of the school, that they were supposed to have more homework anyway. As one girl stated, "We're older now and smarter and we have to do more work." This didn't seem to bother them very much, however, because in order to be a fourth grader one would have to work hard.

Second Grade

"What do you like about the second grade?" The answers to this question varied from recess to the fact that the second grade teachers teach "everything you want to know."

The boys, who were the supporters of recess, like to play in the sand when they're not playing soccer or football. They also enjoy frequent trips to the Children's Science Museum with the girls.

The girls are not quite as sports oriented as their counterparts. They like to trade stickers, which they get from the older girls.

First Grade

"I really like boardwork," exclaimed one first grader. The first graders in general are a studious group; their favorite class being math. However, they still have time to play football and soccer, which even the girls enjoy.

The first graders presented a play for bookweek and were active participants in all of the Lower School activities such as the Halloween Parade and the Lower School Festival. As Catherine Collins stated, "I'm glad we're not the babies anymore."

Kindergarten

Besides being the youngest Cougars, the class of 1995 is, perhaps, the only class that really does combine fun with their school work. Their day consists of playing on Fort Cougar, building castles out of blocks, and coloring pictures. This is done while learning how to read and write.

Drawing and coloring pictures is the favored activity of the girls, while the boys state that they prefer to play outside. The kindergarteners are lucky because all of their work is done by 12:00. Also, it is the only class that is allowed to fall asleep at school. All in all, the kindergarteners love coming to school and have a lot of fun.

Special Teachers

The teachers in the Lower School who are the "special teachers" are those who do not have their own homeroom and teach subjects other than "readin', 'ritin', and 'rithmatic." These teachers are: Mrs. Tracy and Mrs. Perry, music, Miss Groth, art, Mrs. Correll and Mr. Chambers, physical education, Mrs. Keil, French, Mrs. Lipscomb, reading, Mrs. Baird and Mrs. Rigby, economics, Mrs. Weakly and Mrs. Watkins, library, Mrs. Stultz, science, Mrs. Shannon and Mrs. Coleman, kindergarten, and Mrs. Harris, guidance.

Maintenance

They can be seen almost anywhere, day or night, summer or winter, inside or out. They are our fearless grounds maintenance engineers. They keep our second home safe from vandalism, dead leaves, and icy sidewalks. They are always friendly and willing to chat. Parking in tow-away zones, walking on newly waxed floors, and drawing on clean black boards, we keep our maintenance men and women busy. Without them, our lives would be a lot less comfortable.

From 11:14 a.m. to 2:00 p.m., the Cafeteria Staff sees smiling Collegiate students gather for their favorite meal of the day. Other less pleasant moments for the loyal staff include Animal House activities and invading dogs. Without the Cafeteria Staff, which prepares exceptional cuisine in the Lower School, students such as Senior Jeff Armstrong could not relish the "best meal of the day."

J.C. Trains Leaders

Members of the Fourth Grade Junior Council serve as role models for the lower school. Among the honorary duties of the Junior Councilers are raising and lower the flag, holding the doors for other students and teachers, helping smaller students out of their cars in the morning, picking up trash, stopping reckless runners in the hall, and meeting with Mr. Miller. Members of the Junior Council remember their seasons of service with pride.

Prep League Champions

The 1982 Cougar Varsity Football Team accomplished the two ultimate goals: winning the Prep League championship and finishing the season undefeated.

This was not an entirely easy task, but the team's "half-ton" offensive line and strong defense were up to it. Experience and talent also aided in the search for victory. While the defense provided an impenatrable line, the offense was left with enough space to move up the field successfully.

The famed offensive line consisted of center Patrick Kirchmier, guards Paul Thompson and Chris Tate, and tackles John Fitzhugh and Dan Wilson. Thompson, weighing in at only 175 lbs., was dwarfed by the rest of the line, yet he was just as tough as the others.

The line led the way for quarterback Brian Reames and the point accumulating trio of John Harper, Tim Murphy, and Steve Kapral. When Reames went to the air, he often aimed for the able hands of Jeff Armstrong or Eric Towell. This impressive offense set a Collegiate Varsity Football record for the most points scored in a single season (311).

The defense was led by the threatening figure of linebacker Charlie Liebert who continuously crushed his opposition.

Other defensive standouts were Mike Wood (end), and Bill Eubank (cornerback). The rest of the defense consisted mainly of linemen who doubled on offense. The stingy Cougar defense allowed only 46 points all season.

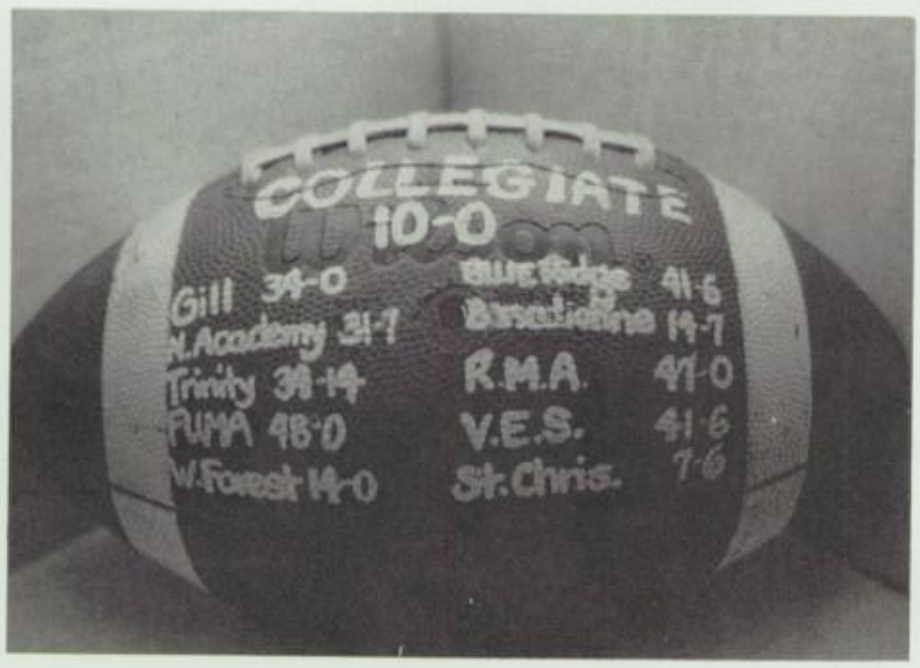
Seventh In Area And . . . . . .



The Cougars captured 11 All-Prep commendations. These included Armstrong, Wood, Tate, Liebert, Thompson, Towell, Harper, and Fitzhugh. Tate and Fitzhugh also made the All-Metro First Team, while Reames, Armstrong, Liebert, and George Mehfoud received honorable mentions.

Although the majority of this year's starting team will graduate, the outlook appears bright for the 1983 Cougars. Wood, a two-way starter since his sophomore year at fullback and defensive end will be returning as well as the 250 lb. Wilson. Other future hopes include Brad Nott, Deane Cheatham, D. Wayne Pate, Sean Cambell, C.R. Langhorne, John Maloney, and Chris Cowan.

The 1982 undefeated season was well deserved by this hard working squad, as well as the coaching staff. After suffering two dreary season, Head Coach Grover Jones (and Coach of the Year) summed it all up by saying, "How sweet it is."

New Team Stuns Opponents

Tri-captains Rob Braine, David Patterson, and John Todd led the Cougars' first fall soccer team, at the J.V. level, to a bright start. The team finished 6-9-1 as much promising talent emerged.

Braine and Patterson effectively controlled the mid-field most of the season. Tibor Fenyes and Walker Martin contributed tremendously at the wing position. Goal-keeper Andy Brownstein also did a tough job.

The team compiled crushing victories over Marymount and Liberty Christian. And as coach Gerald Sheilds stated, "This new J.V. team is a great addition to our athletic program."

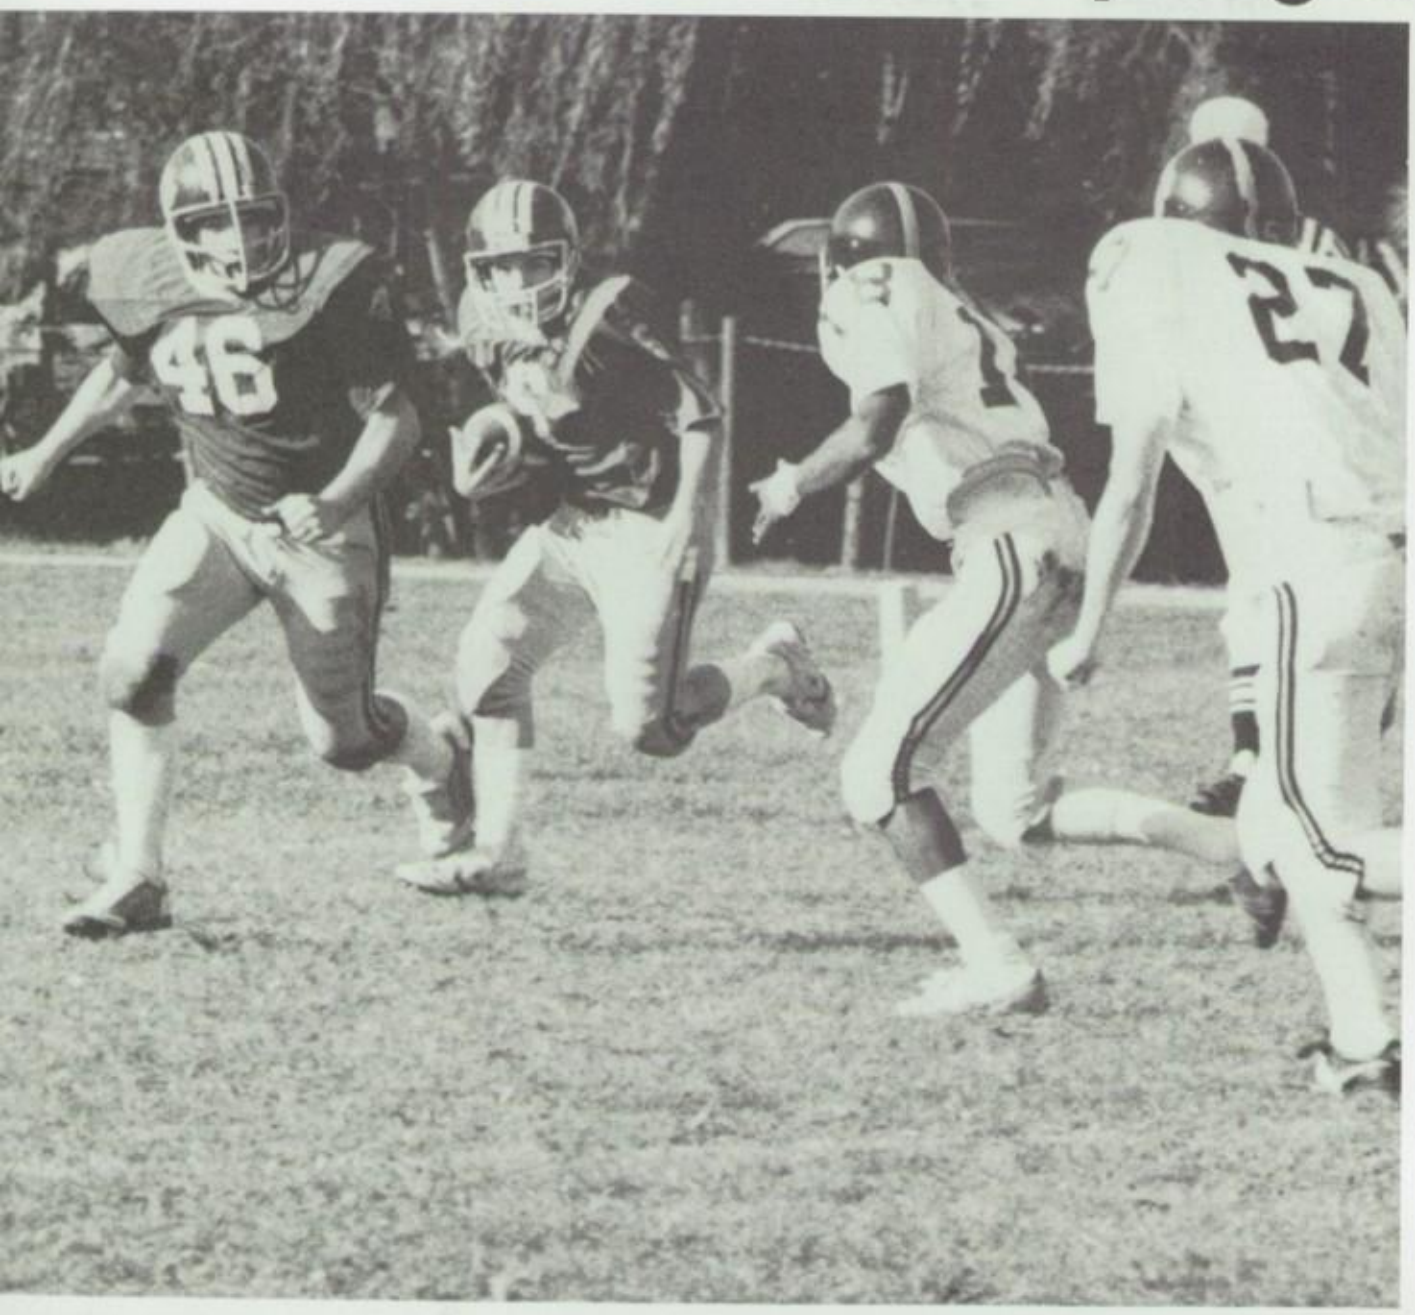
St. C. Romp Highlights Season



The J.V. football team had a tremendous season this year, capping off a 5-3 record by beating St. Christophers 19-0.

Although the team got off to a slow start, it finished the season with three consecutive wins over Blue Ridge, V.E.S., and St. Christophers. Other victories were Trinity and Fork Union.

Much of the J.V. team's success was prompted by the leadership and ability of the tri-captains: Jack Carneal, Wyatt Beazley, and Michael Cocke. Their enthusiasm and great play generated a strong aura of spirit.

Another key factor in this year's winning season was the coaches. Returning head coaches Mr. Jim Hickey, and assistant coach Mr. Joel Nuchols welcomed the new coach, Mr. Joe Smith. This combination proved to be profitable.

One team member said, "Although we had our ups and downs, we had a winning team on the scoreboard, and on the whole."

Tough breaks plague Cougars

Collegiate's 1982 Varsity Soccer Team found that youth is not always desirable. Taking a team laden with freshmen and juniors into a league of seniors, the Cougars found themselves a little underexperienced. They also finished the season with a 5-13-2 record.

The season began on an optimistic note with a come-from-behind victory over Richmond Christian and a 4-0 trouncing of the Benedictine Cadets on T.V. In the latter game, Rohan Hazra and Mark Brown were named the Chuck E. Cheese Co. — MVPs.

Unfortunately, the next five games did not go as well. Injuries to key players such as senior Glenn Hopkins and junior Bo Noonan left unfillable gaps in the team.

Many heartbreaking losses plagued the team until November, when they chalked up two wins over Blue Ridge and Randolph Macon.

What the future holds for the Cougars is uncertain, as a lot of experience will be lost due to graduation. Hopefully, Collegiate's youth will be able to take up the slack.

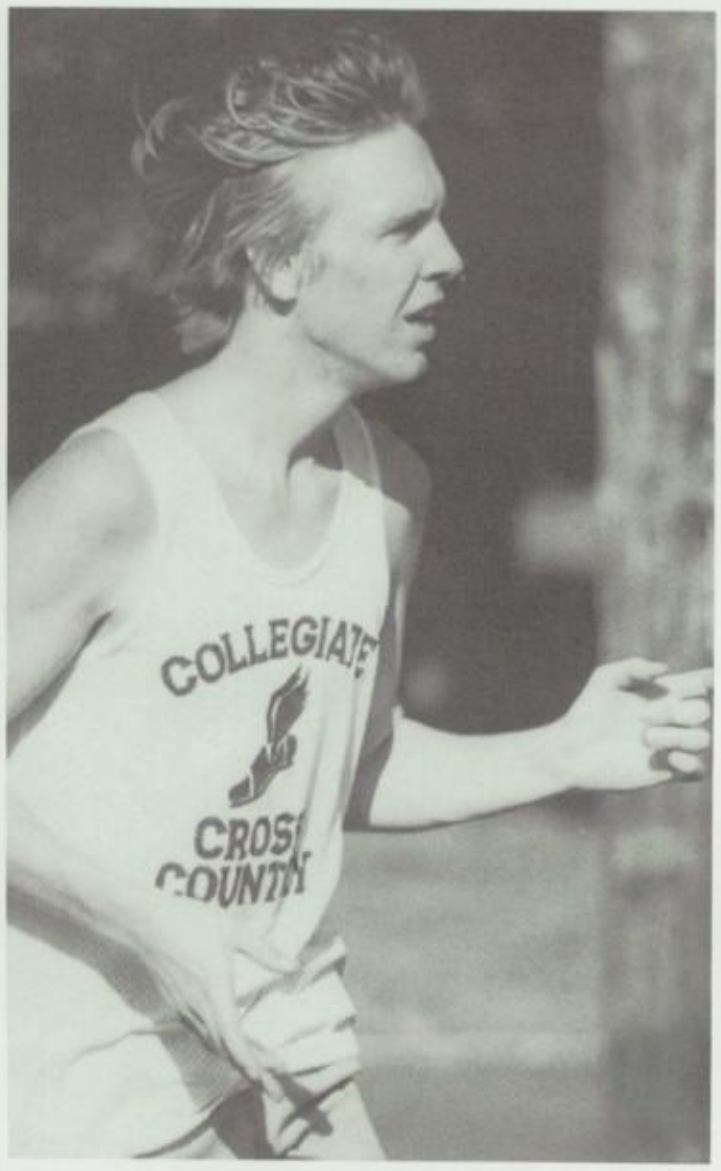
Nagging Injuries Hamper Runners



With the top five runners returning from last year's successful (third place in Prep League) squad, the Varsity Cross Country, coached by Mr. Weldon Bradshaw, approached the 1982 season with optimism.

Unfortunately, a combination of injuries to key performers and unusually stiff competition led a relatively disappointing 6-7 record and a sixth place-league finish. The Cougars talent was by no means lacking, however, making the won-lost mark appear deceiving. When the top runners were healthy, the team showed its true ability by scoring impressive wins over Blue Ridge and Fork Union.

Sophomore Kevin Martin-Gayle held down the top spot for most of the season, but ran in the last few meets with an injured heel. Co-captain Billy Goode made All-Prep for the second straight year in spite of being hampered with leg troubles the last part of the season. John Hubbard and Co-captain Chris Runkle also finished first among Cougar hurriers at different meets during the season. Other top runners included seniors Chris McKinley, L.P. Nelson, David Warner, Scott Rose, and Rives Fleming.

Girls #1 In League

What an unbelievable team this year! The girl's hockey team was undefeated going into the L.I.S. tournament and became champions of their league after beating Norfolk Academy 2-1 in the final game.

With A team's offensive line that could not be stopped and a strong defense, the Cougars only lost one game with a record of 11-1-1. Top scorers Lee Moreau and Hannah Reeves, the offense had a total of 52 goals for the season. Tri-captains Ann Scott, Sarah Dalton, and Polly Northen led the defense and goalies Natalee Grigg and Molly Reeves only allowed 11 goals to get past.

The B team had an outstanding record of 8-2-3 and high scorers were Peyton Rowe and Ann-Marie Shaia. Seniors Beth Anne Nelson and Susan Patterson led the team with their experience and enthusiasm.

The season ended with a dinner (or for Witt a "chow down" on that lasagna) at Beth Curry's house. No food fights errupted, but a "corny" poem was read and everyone had a lot of fun!

YOUNG TALENT

With a new coach, Missy Herod, the JV Hockey team had a super season and only lost one game. The eighth grade as well as the sophomore players played key roles in the teams successful season.

Co-captains, Elizabeth Harper and Antoinette Lucas, were elected, and both players were high scorers. Other top scorers were Mary Bennet, Kate Lucas, and Lisa Stern. The final record was 4-1-4.

Some of the girls attended a hockey clinic in the summer, and they gained good experience for the upcoming years. Some are looking foward to playing on the Varsity team next season.

HEIGHT DOESN'T HINDER GIRLS

The Girl's Varsity Basketball team got off to a good start with early wins over rivals Trinity and St. Catherine's. The team was well balanced and what they sometimes lacked in height, they made up in determination. Although tri-captains Michele Adams, Ann Scott, and Mary Webber will not be returning, next season looks very promising as starters Lisa Coleman, Beth Curry, Courtney Boyd, and Lee Moreau will return.

The team finished with a 8-5 record and after an up and down season, finished second in the L.I.S. tournament. The B team, led by captain Elizabeth Harper, also had a fine season, finishing with a 3-4 record. Both teams owe much of their success to the superb coaching of Dot Harrop, Gwen Donahue, and Tammy Holder.

Bad Breaks and Injuries Prove Costly

Once again this year's Basketball Team was full of potential, but a combination of injuries and close losses among other things cost the Cougars as they finished the year with a 7-14 record.

Full of expectation, the team began the season with an impressive showing in the Rebel Invitational. A victory over "public school" foe Freeman 68-60 in the first round was followed by a 50-44 loss to Tucker in the championship game. The ensueing games before Christmas break were a disaster as Collegiate had close losses at Blue Ridge and Norfolk Academy. January was another tough month for the squad as they lost more close games, including a 49-48 overtime loss at FUMA. February proved to be the month the Cougars had been expecting the entire year. A strong showing against Woodberry Forest netted a 53-49 victory. This was followed by wins against VES and Blue Ridge. Even though the team entered the Prep League Tourney with some momentum, they had a tough 70-52 loss to Woodberry.

The team was led by senior Captain Moncure Geho who was one of the leading scorers in the Prep League. Other Seniors who were looked on for contribution were: Jeff Armstrong, Frank Mountcastle, Brian Reames, Alex Cecil, and Scott Sutton. The crop of underclassmen were led by Junior Mike Wood and sophomore Michael Brost. These two will be looked on for leadership next year.

Perhaps the highlight of the year was a devastating "slam" dunk in the Gill game by Jeff Armstrong.

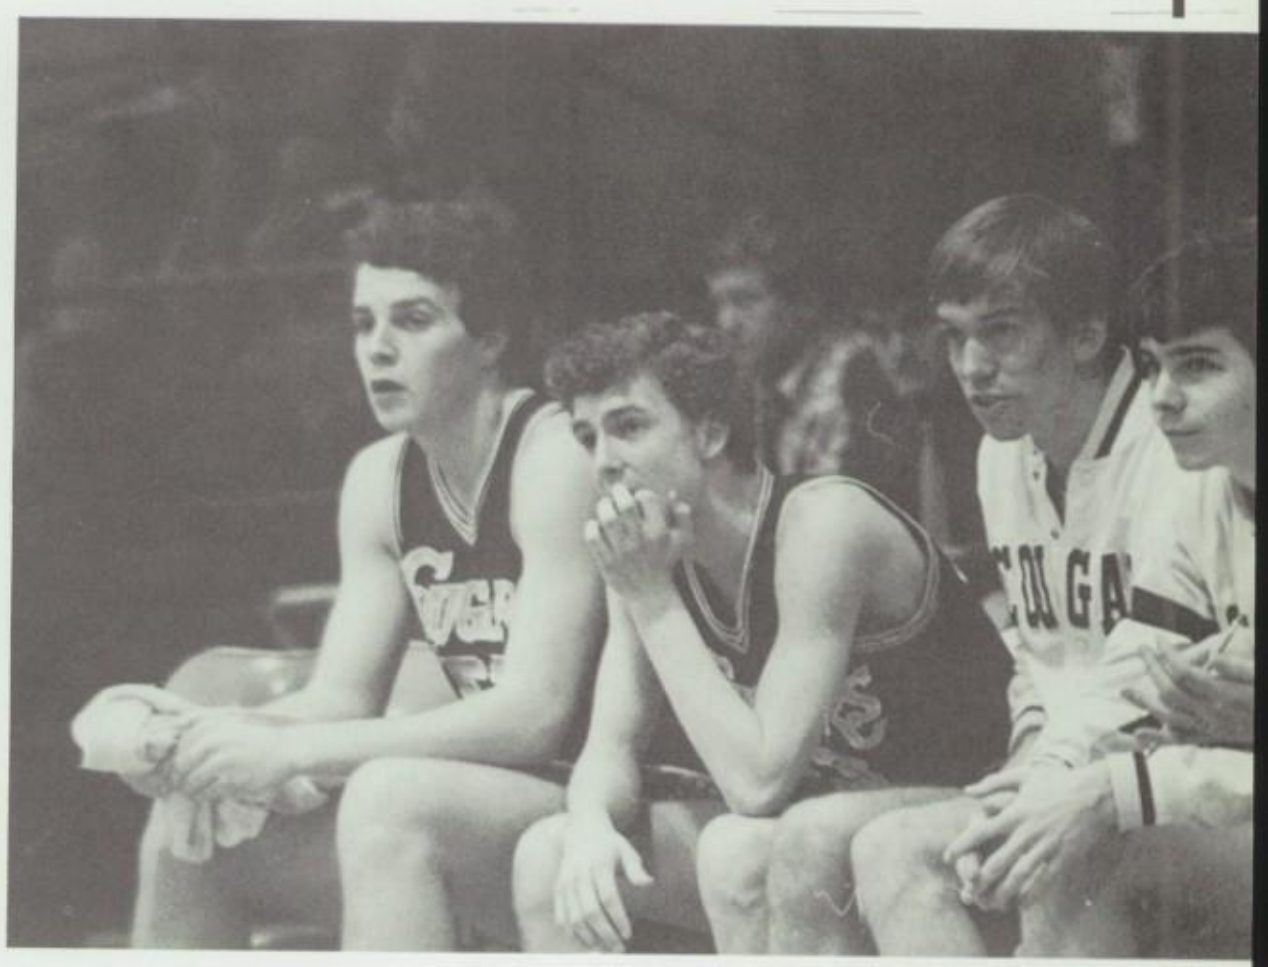
Moncure Geho spots Jeff Armstrong out of the corner of his eye as Scott Savedge defends and Rick Edmonds looks helplessly at the basket.

Mike Brost does all he can to prevent Trinity's Paul Adams from completing the pass.



Frank Mountcastle takes a well-deserved breather.

The 1982 Collegiate Varsity baseball team, led by senior Bubba Paris (.536 batting average, first team All-Prep) and sophomore pitchers Jerry Booth (7 wins, 2 losses, first team All-Prep) and Ted Lowe (6 wins, 4 losses), came just shy of their third consecutive Prep League championship with a second place finish. It was head coach Charlie McFall and assistant Charlie Blair's debut season after the "Jacobs' Dynasty".

After a dismal start, only two wins in their first five games, the Cougars rallied to win their next games. This streak was caused in large by the timely bats of Paris and fellow senior Russ Daniel, the prodigious swing of Chris Tate, and the finesse on the mound of Lowe and Booth. This, completed by such glittering fielders as seniors Jamie Curry, Scott Wimbish, and Ross Hotchkiss, made them nearly unstoppable.

The Cougars found the going tough towards the end of the season, losing to the Saints for the second time, and losing a heartbreaking 2-1 decision to Trinity to close out the season.

For the upcoming 1983 season, Coach McFall and Blair have to be excited. Lowe, Booth, and Tate will provide the nucleus for returning veterans Alex Cecil, George Mehfoud, Patrick Murray, Greg Vining, Greg Robins, and often injured Chip Joseph. Coming up from the J.V. team will be infielders David Clary and Bo Noonan, and outfielders Bill Moore, and Mike Henry. With this allignment, the Cougars will be out for revenge against the Saints for the league title.

Better Showing in Winter

Winter Soccer, now a varsity team sport, finished the season with a 6-3 record, a vast improvement over the fall season. Led by co-captains, Rohan Hazra and Bo Nodnan, the team was well balanced in all areas. The defense was upheld by David Clary, John Kay, and Scott Smythe while Ray Tolleson, Henry Williams and John Norman, contributed several goals as strikers.

As Williams commented, "Although the competition was a bit more slack in the winter, our better record from the fall is due largely to our improved skills." Clary added that this year's winter soccer team, "built a sound basis for next fall's team which should have a good chance to win the Prep League."

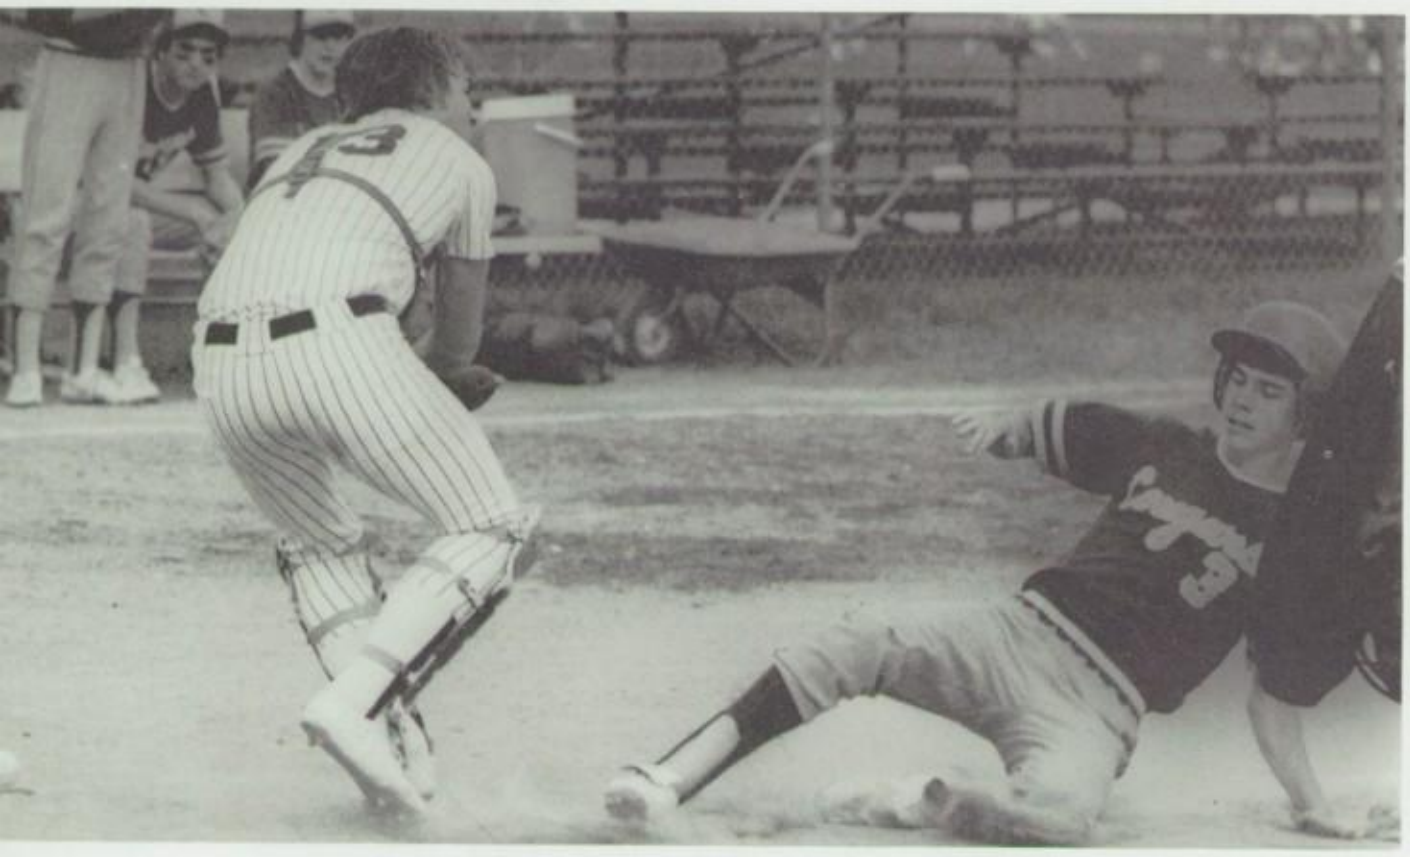
Sophmores Lead J.V.



Co-Captain Bill Moore slides home as the Blue Ridge catcher drops the ball.

Led by co-captains Mike Henry and Bill Moore and outstanding sophomores David Clary and Bo Noonan, the 1982 J.V. baseball team stunned the spring athletic scene by compiling a 9-5 record.

Noonan, Moore, and Henry held down the bulk of the pitching duties. The highlight of the year in pitching was Henry's one-hitter at Tidewater Academy.

Besides pitching, the team excelled in the field and in hitting. The defense was quite strong up the middle with Noonan at short and Clary at second. Freshman Troy Arnold was a pleasant surprise behind the plate, while freshman Brian Justice added dependable service in the outfield.

Hitting was the team's best point with Henry, Moore, Clary, and Noonan hitting a combined .461. Moore and Clary led the squad in home runs with two a piece. The team often scored in double figures.

The 1983 team will also be nammed largely by sophomores. Arnold and David Wilson are captains, as Hunter White and Brian Justice will also be looked to for service. White stated the 1983 team "will be phenomenal."

All in all, from the performance of the 1982 team and from the looks of 1983's, the Cougar baseball dynasty will continue . . .

Newcomers Prove

Coach Pate directed the new addition to the Cougars' athletic department which astonished many of its opponents. The field of wrestlers were led by Chris Tate who wrestled in the unlimited class. Tate pulled off a decisive win over McVey to give the Cougars a victory over St. Christopher's at their home court as he worked his way to All-Prep. Pratt O'Brien and D. Wayne Pate were also major contributors.

The team captured fourth place in the Prep League behind only Norfolk, Woodberry, and VES. The squad constantly wds recognized around school for their starvation antics as they tried to "make weight."

Overall the new squad was pound for pound successful.

TEAM BUILDS STRENGTH

The Girl's Softball Team took a turn for the better this year, and won several of their games. More people tried out for the team than in past years.

Led by co-captains Sheri Cantor and Michele Adams, the team managed to score 82 runs for a 3-5 record, and they became a competitive threat to the other area teams. With young players on the team, they are sure to have an experienced team for the upcoming years.

TEE TIME

1982

The trees are no barrier for Frank's mighty stroke.

Brian Reames, Moncure Geho, Jimmy Wiley, Ted Dunn, Slaughter Fitzhugh, Scott Rose, Frank Mountcastle

The 1981-82 Collegiate golf team had a mediocre season. Led by Captain Jimmy Wiley, the team struggled to a 5th place finish in the Prep League. Other major contributors were seniors Harry Gantaume, Slaughter Fitz-Hugh, juniors Frank Mountcastle and Moncure Geho, and eighth grader Jimmy Parsley. Carl Parrish, replacing Grover Jones, helped the team tremendously. Highlights included the trip to South Carolina to play in the Southern Cross Invitational and moving to a new course, the Country Club of Virginia's Tuckahoe Course.

The 1982-83 Collegiate golf team was young and inexperienced. Newcomers included senior Greg Robins and junior Ham Dozier. Senior captain Frank Mountcastle led the team along with seniors Moncure Geho, and Brian Reames and freshman Jimmy Parsley. Once again, Coach Carl Parrish came to the Cougars aid, giving "the linksters" many helpful pointers. The Cougars hoped to use their tough schedule to improve and peak around Prep League Tournament time.

Get High on the Outdoors

Under the direction of Edwin Green, Collegiate rock climbers and canoers again enjoyed successful seasons.

For the fall such climbers as Mark Falls, Scott Halloran, Jimmy Brennan, Jeff Darden, Teddy Pettus participated in the program which used the facilities at James River Park.

The canoers were John Hubbard, Charles Reed, Scott Halloran, and Whit Andrews. The squad canoed "all over the place" stated Green. These places included overnight trips to Harper's Ferry and the Rappahanock River.

JV Spirit

This year's J.V. Cheerleading squad was led by captain Suzanne Rawlings and co-captain Westray Bunn. It got off to a slow start this year because the tryouts for the freshmen were held in the Fall instead of the previous Spring. The squad, however, picked up on many pyramids and cheers when the sophomores went to the cheering camp at UVA over the summer and have tried to use what they learned to promote school spirit.

Refreshed Varsity Spirit

The 1982-83 Varsity Cheerleading squad had a head start for the Fall season by attending cheering camp at UVA last August. The dance routines at our pep rallies and the new pyramids at half time can be attributed to this. This enthusiasm was led by co-captains Blair Chandler and Shawn McDaniel. They were certainly kept busy cheering for hockey and football in the Fall and girl's and boy's basketball in the Winter.

Besides stimulating the crowd and "entertaining" with dance routines, the Varsity Cheerleaders also advertised for games, had secret pals, decorated locker rooms, made large hall signs, and of course, contributed a great deal to Homecoming.

JV AND VARSITY COMBINE

The J.V. and varsity Pep Clubs merged this year to create a bigger, better and more enthusiastic club. The squad members could be easily seen at the games in their green and gold outfits.

Led by Leigh Eggleston and Ashley Klaus, the varsity and J.V. heads, the Pep Club cheered at many games by themselves and helped the cheerleaders at the important games.

All in all, the girls' hockey and basketball seasons were enhanced by the presence of the Pep Club.

1982 Varsity

Only two years ago our Varsity Lacrosse was the joke of the Prep League. A game against the Cougars was regarded as an easy victory. Now however, teams fret at the thought of playing Collegiate.

It began when Mr. Chip Tompkins took over the coaching job and instilled an intense interest in the sport. Now with coaches Mike Thompson and David Corrigan, Lacrosse has continued where Tompkins left off. Last year the team came in second in the Prep League and was invited to the state tournament and was seeded third. With stars Walter Spence, John Harper, and C.R. Langhorne, the team figures to finish as well or better than last year.

As for future Lacrosse teams, one need only walk down the Middle School hall and see all the Lacrosse sticks to know that it is here to stay.

Prep and State Champs

Last year's Spring Track team had all it takes to pull it off. Not only did they win the Prep League Tournament, but they also clinched the State Private School meet. It was, "just an outstanding season," said track coach, Mr. Jim Hickey. Key performers were seniors David Shannon, Kenny Young, Stanton Thalhimer, Henry Liebert, and Charlie Carmine. While juniors Larry Smith, Billy Deep, Eric Towell, and John Fitzhugh added a winning touch to the season.

With the exception of six seniors, this season was, "mostly a rebuilding year . . . (we've) gained experience" said Coach Hickey. "Injuries and illness bothered us," said Hickey. Peaking for the Prep League Tournament, Eric Towell set a meet record in triple jumping, and Larry Smith scored 13 points in the field events alone. The Cougars ended up Fourth below St. Christopher's, Woodberry, and Norfolk Academy.

Coach Hickey is optimistic about this year's spring in which over 40 people will be on the teams. With returning seniors and budding underclassmen, the spring looks very promising.

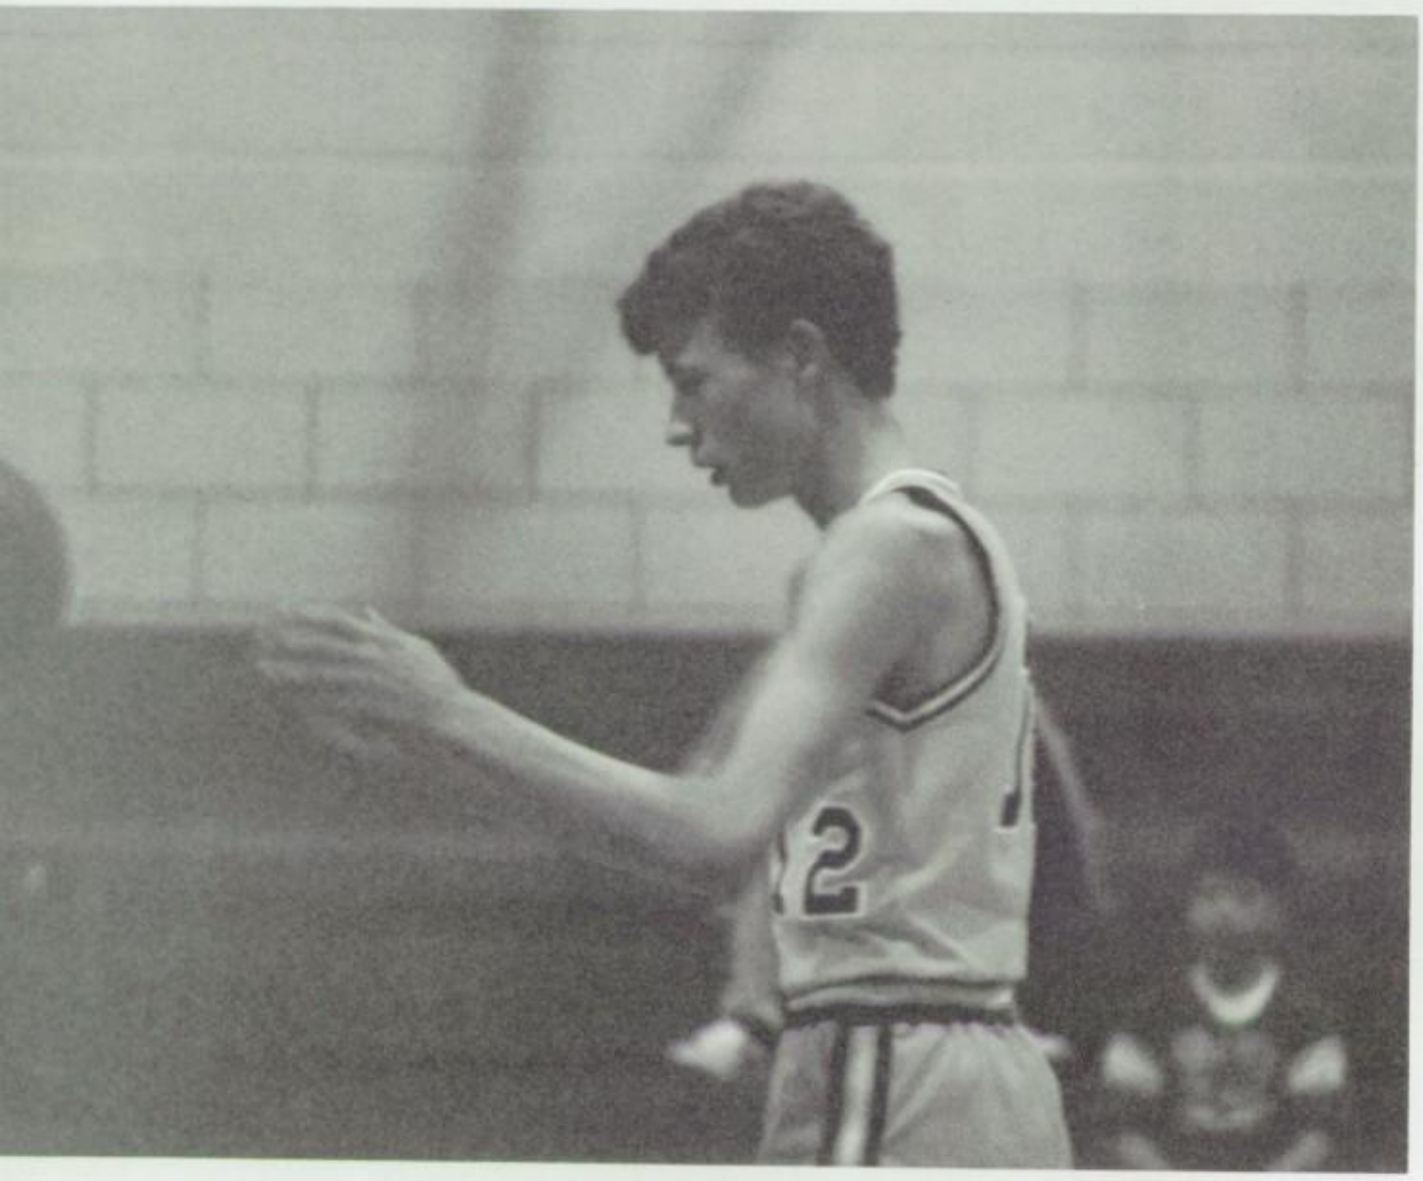
TIED FOR PREP LEAGUE CHAMPS



Point guard Brian Justice displays great concentration as he prepares to sink another free throw.

David Corrigan coached this year's J.V. Basketball team which proved to be one of the best Collegiate has seen in years. The boys finished the season with an outstanding 9-2 league record and tied Woodberry for the Prep League championship.

The team was led by Captain Brian Justice who was the leading scorer in the Prep League. Big Bobby Brennan, the tallest player in the league, controlled the inside and pulled down several crucial rebounds. Other key players included David Wilson, Robbie Rieland, and Ned Sinnott.

Highlights of the season were impressive victories over St. Christopher's, Woodberry, and two wins over Trinity.

From the looks of these young talented players, Coach Chambers should be looking forward to some "good ball" in the near future.

Nice job guys!!

L.I.S. CHAMPIONS

Well, it was another successful season for the Girls' Lacross team led by coach Dot Harrop and co-captains Anne Overton and Sally Wyatt for A-team and Teresa Alvis for B-team. Surviving the long team practices with the ever popular mile runs and sprints, the A-team had an impressive record of 11-1-1, and the B-team's record was 6-5-1. record was 6-5-1.

The strong offense on A-team was made up of key players Ann Scott, Lisa Coleman, and Sarah Dalton. Beating the Kitties and Trinity were added highlights to their season.

An all new B-team, with the exception of Catherine Casey, had a very enthusiastic and strong season with high scorers Beth Turnbull and Caroline Milmoe.

In the L.I.S. Tournament at Walsinham, the cougars were champions, defeating Trinity in the Final game! Anne Overton, Sarah Dalton, and Ann Scott were named to the L.I.S. all-star team and there was alot of wild celebrating after that season finale.

The 1982 Varsity Tennis Team was led by co-captains Tim and Thad Polk, compiled a 15-3 record and finished in a strong second place in the Prep League behind St. Christopher's. On their way to such a strong record, the Cougars demolished all Prep League teams except Woodberry and St. Christopher's.

The Polks held the one and two spots on the ladder and were followed by Nicky Midis, Kenny Bendheim, Michael Deep and Steve Miller. Eighth grade Billy Tunner also helped out.

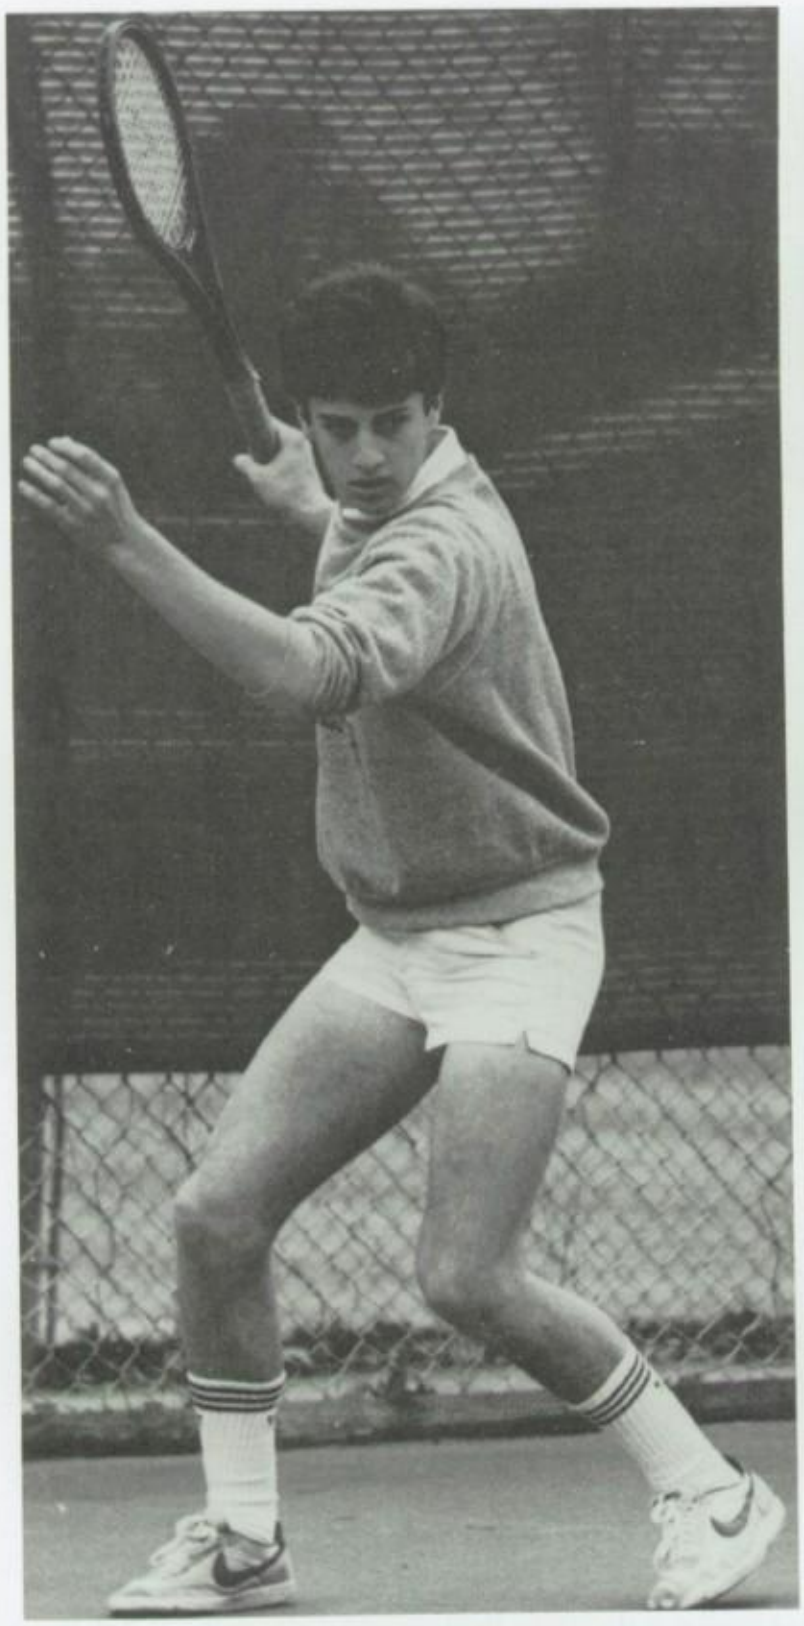
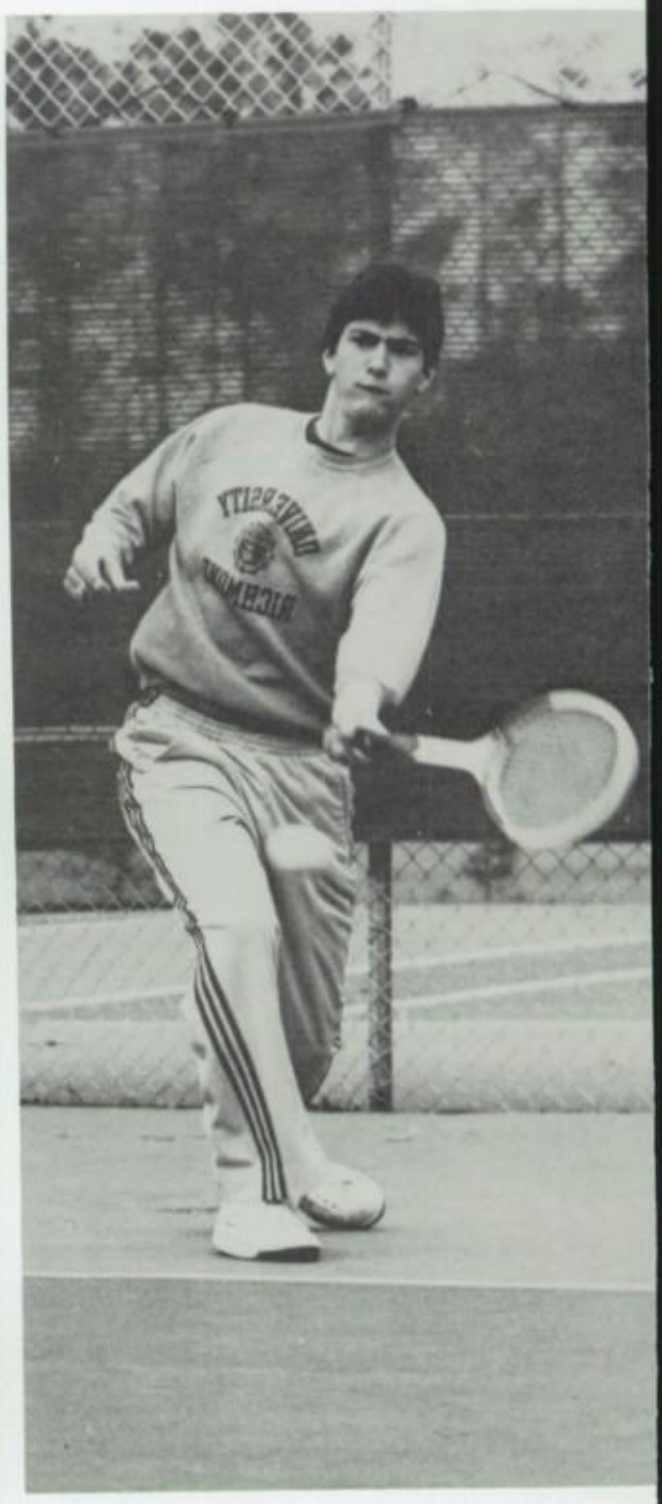
The team's success sparked their invitation to the Interscholastic Championship at Duke University. The tournament participants included some of the best teams from across the country.

The team was talent-laden in '82 and the perspective for '83 looks much the same. Midis, Deep, Bendheim, and Tunner will all be back. Robbie Levit and Wes Atiyeh will also contribute to the squad.

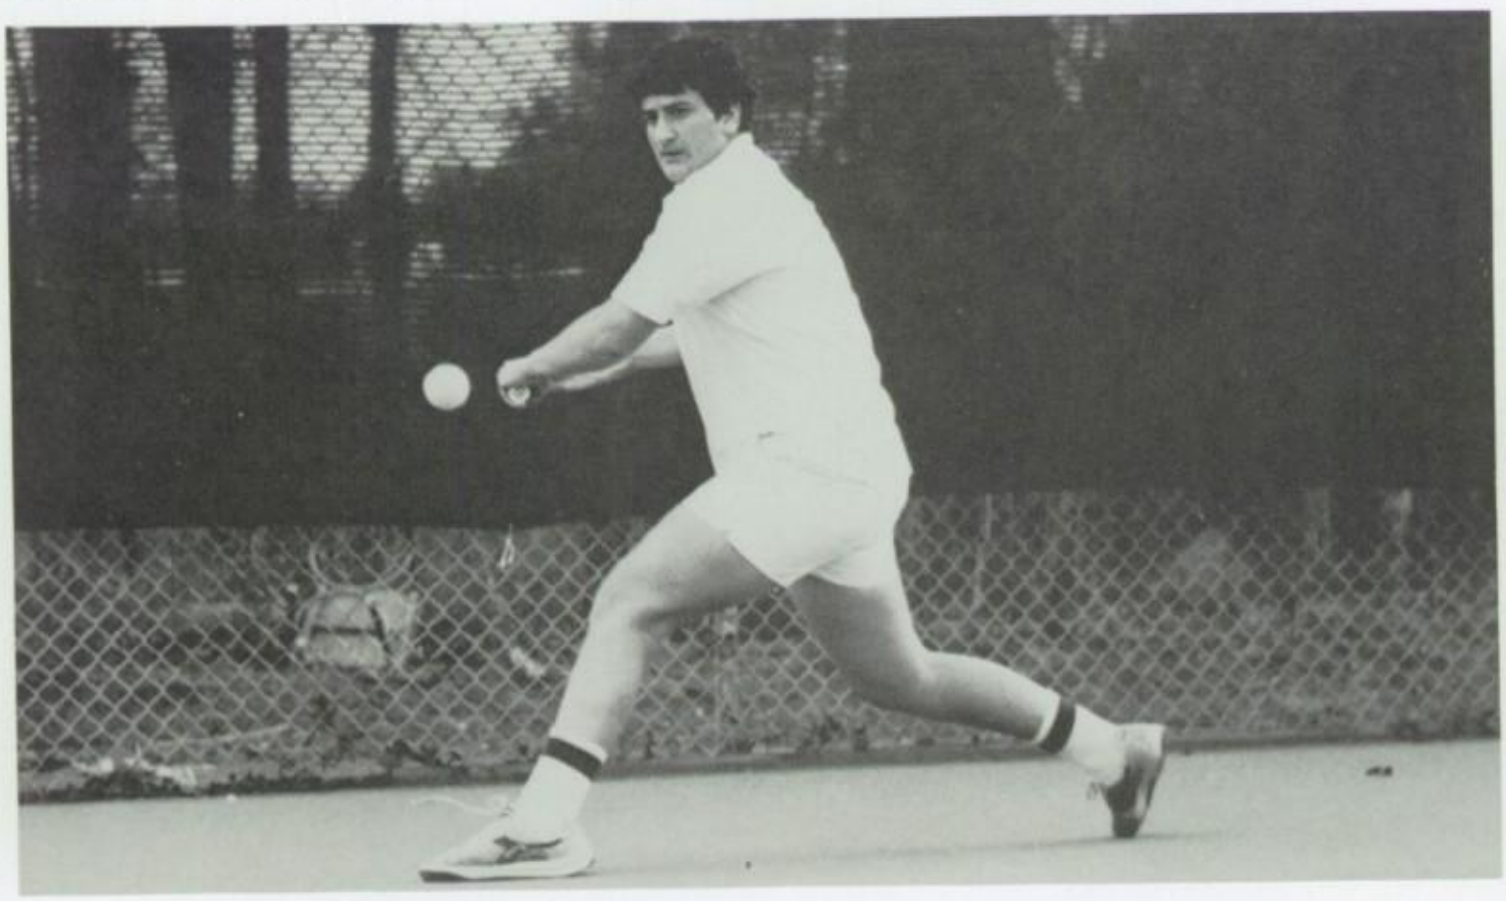
Although last year's team had much to Boast about, this year's squad should do just as well.





Right: Kenny Bendheim's forehand is just short of McEnroe's. Below: Nicky Midis savors this time he is able to wear shorts before he goes to college.

Chuck Brown has recovered from his injury and i ready for action.



Talent, Experience Justify Record

J.V. TEAM PROVES ITSELF TOUGH

Under the direction of Coach John Moreau, the 1982 J.V. Tennis Team compiled an impressive 6-3 record. Crushing victories over Blue Ridge, Norfolk, and Gill helped prompt this record.

Fifth grader (yes, fifth grade) Robert Reynolds played "one" for the Cougars and did a terrific job. Kimi Das, Todd Clary, Al Allen and John Corcoran also helped tremendously.

Even with the loss of Reynolds to baseball, the 1983 team was every bit as strong as last year's. Das, Clary, Corcoran, and Allen are returning and Randy Master, Brent Hailes and Paul Caldwell have joined to assist the squad.

The J.V. Tennis team looks as if it will be producing top-notch players for the varsity team in the years to come, upholding the marvelous tennis tradition at Collegiate.

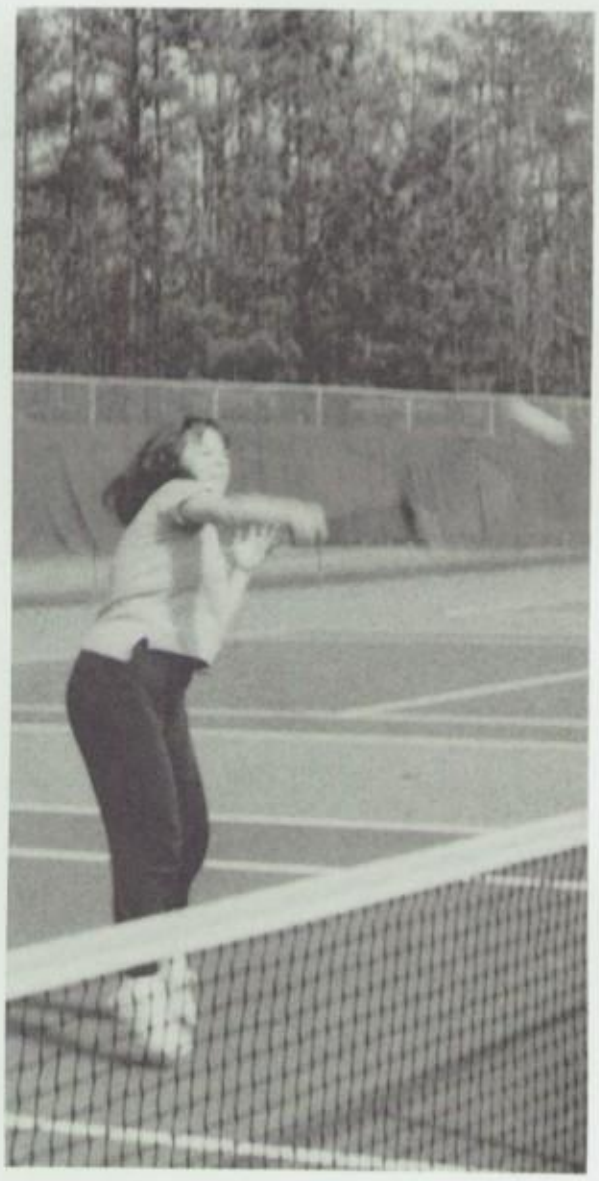
TEAM HAS BALANCE



The 1982 Girl's Varsity Tennis Team was led by seniors Lauren Deep and Mimi Vaughn. Coached by Mrs. Gwen Donahue, the team was strong because of its underclassmen's potential.

Strong teams such as Trinity and St. Catherine's were tough competition, but the girls came through because of the eveness of the team and its spirit. By working hard, the girls were successful in their hard season.

Some top players were Mary Stuart Cocke, Nene Fleming, Leigh Eggleston, and Amy Beauchamp. All of the players contributed to their fine record of 5-5.

At last, the outlook for the Girl's Soccer Team in 1984 seems bright. After having three winless seasons, the '83 soccer team, under the direction of Missy Herod and Kameron and Forbes Hopper, finished with a 3-1-5 record. Senior members of the team included the co-captains Sarah Dalton and Hannah Reeves. They were joined by several other veterans, but for the most part, the team consisted of younger players. Many intermediate girls have participated in Richmond soccer leagues and Hannah said, "I think we began to see the first ot these players this year. They certainly were an important part of the team." Unfortunately, due to the weather conditions, Coach Herod was forced to cancel the remaining games and the L.I.S. tournament. This means that the eager soccer fans will have to wait for what should be a great season, next year.

CHARLEYS IS GREAT!

CHARLEYS offers a neat, relaxed atmosphere for all occasions. Casual, funtimes and "dressy" occasions can be enjoyed at CHARLEYS. Real men like Patrick Kirchmier (pictured above) eat quiche or Beef Wellington. Ann Tuohey can enjoy burgers, steaks, or Shrimp Scampi on a date or just when the girls go out together.

Sunday Brunch each week. Open to Cougars and everyone else if room 11:30 AM to 11:30 PM daily.

1983 has meant the break-up of The Who; a break-up that is duplicated at Collegiate. The Upper School will be divided when the Seniors have left. But, as we will always have the songs, we will also always have the friendships.

As students, The Who has had a lot to say to us. Their lyrics put our thoughts into poetry which reflects the anger, the love, the successes and the failures in our lives. We may not remember years, but songs can help us to remember moments. We are individuals who laugh, sigh, play and act — we are who we choose to be.

Colophon

The 1983 TORCH (Volume 63) was published by the 20 member yearbook staff of The Collegiate Schools and printed using offset lithography by the Hunter Publishing Company in Winston-Salem North Carolina. The company representative was John Perry. Paper stock is 80 pound Consolidated Dull. Endsheet stock is paper color 105 printed differently front and back with green ink color 555. Artist Greg Robins produced the original endsheet artwork in pencil. All body copy was set in 10 pt. Avant Book. Captions were set in 8 pt. type and headlines in 18 pt. bold face. Every section was enclosed with a 4 pt. tool line. All printing used black ink. Base material for the cover was lexotone using #41039 Hunter Green with a #3 hand tooled material grain. Covers were embossed with Rich Solid color on front and backbone. Senior books were personalized with names stamped in gold. Approximately 7560 black and white frames were shot for candid, class, team, and sports photographs in the 1983 TORCH. All photography was processed in Richmong professional labs and prints were made in the Collegiate publications darkroom. The 1983 TORCH had an initial press run of 1400 copies containing 264 pages.
